T H U R S D A Y

THURSDAY, January 13, 1780.

A letter of the 4th from general Washington was read, accompanied with fundry papers relative to a proposed exchange of prisoners of war; whereupon

Resolved, That all the powers granted to general Washington, by the resolution of the 5th of March, 1779, respecting the exchange of prisoners, be, and they are hereby renewed and confirmed.

Ordered, That the papers accompanying the general's letter of the 4th be returned to him.

Resolved, That it be recommended to the executive authorities of the several states, to transmit with all possible expedition to general Washington, the names and rank of all officers; and the number of privates belonging to the enemy, held as prisoners of war within their respective states, and the places they are at, in order that they may be included in the general exchange, should a cartel be agreed to, between the commanders in chief of the American and British armies.

Many inconveniencies attending the present management of prisoners of war, and great dissatisfaction having arisen from the mode of exchanging them heretofore used from the partialities inevitably attending the same, while conducted under various directions by divers commissaries independent of each other; and sufficient provision not being made for their security, in many cases frequently occurring:

Resolved, That all prisoners of war, whether captivated by the army or navy of the United States or by the subjects, troops or ships of any particular state, shall be delivered into the care and custody of the commissary general of prisoners, his deputies or assistants, and be deemed and treated in all respects as prisoners of war to the United States:

That it be earnestly recommended to the governments of the respective states, that they make no exchanges of prisoners, to the intent, that all exchanges may be made through the commissary general of prisoners, by direction of Congress or the commander in chief, or board of admiralty; and when prisoners are taken by the particular subjects, troops or vessels of any state, not in the service of the United States, or by private ships or vessels of war, fitted out in any particular state, these shall be first exchanged, so far as is necessary, for the subjects or inhabitants of the same state, taken by the subjects, adherents, ships or vessels of the enemy; and the overplus, if any, shall go towards redeeming the prisoners in the hands of the enemy, without regard to their being subjects or inhabitants of any particular state :

That all masters or commanders of private ships or vessels of war, shall take the utmost care to bring into port all prisoners captivated by them. And if from necessity they shall be obliged to dismiss any prisoners at sea, they shall, on return from their cruize, make report thereof, on oath, to the judge of the admiralty of the state to which they belong, or in which they arrive, within twenty days after their arrival, with their reasons for such dismissal. And if the judge shall not be satisfied with the reasons assigned, or if it shall appear that the prisoners were discharged to avoid the trouble or expence of bringing them into port, and delivering them into custody, or in any wise unnecessarily, then the judge shall transmit an account thereof to the executive of the state, who are requested to examine into the matter, and vacate the commission granted to the said delinquent master or commander of the ship or vessel, if they are of opinion that such dismissal was improper :

That all prisoners of war captivated by private ships or vessels of war, be delivered by and at the expence of the masters or owners of such ships or vessels, to a commissary of prisoners nearest the place of their landing, or into the nearest county goal on pain of forfeiture of the commission granted to such private ship or vessel :

That on such delivery of the prisoners into the goal, the goaler shall be obliged to inform the government of the state wherein the said prisoners are landed ; or in case of their residence at too great a distance, the lieutenant or commanding officer of the militia of the county wherein such prisoners are landed, the commissary general of prisoners or his deputy ; that if the said prisoners are not deemed by the executive of the state, or the said commanding officer of the militia, to be in a place of sufficient security, they may be removed under proper guards to a place or places of greater safety safety, at the expence of the United States. And the executive powers of the respective states are requested to give the necessary orders to the commanding officers of militia on this subject, and to pay the expences of escorting and transporting the prisoners, charging the same to the United States. The said executives are also requested to give orders to the officers of their militia, to take immediate charge of all prisoners of war captivated by the ships and vessels of war, belonging to the United States or to any particular state, and to convey them at the expence of the United States, to the nearest commissary of prisoners, or to the country goal; and also direct the like steps to be taken in regard to their removal to places of greater safety, as is provided in the case of prisoners captured by private vessels:

That it be recommended to the legislatures of the respective states, effectually to provide, at the expence of the United States, for the delivery and safe keeping of all prisoners captivated by their respective subjects, out of vessels stranded or cast on shore on their coasts, obliging the parties taking prisoners, to deliver them to the nearest commissary of prisoners or into the nearest gaol, in case no commissary of prisoners is stationed within convenient distance of the place of capture; and in case of neglect or misconduct in the persons so taking the prisoners, that they forfeit all right to the vessel, her tackle, apparel and furniture so cast on shore, or the property they may save, or be otherwise entitled to out of such vessel; or imposing such other penalty as the said legislatures shall respectively think proper.

That it be recommended to the said legislatures to provide and direct, that all jailers receive and deliver prisoners of war, without charging any fee or reward to the persons delivering them into or taking them by proper authority out of their custody. The reasonable expences of supporting such prisoners in gaol, to be paid by the government of the state wherein they shall be confined, and charged to the United States, except where they can and shall be otherwise provided for by the proper officer in the service of the United States. And the jailer shall transmit a copy of his charges against the United States, for account of prisoners of war, to the commissary general of prisoners, or his nearest deputy, when any prisoners leave the gaol, either for removal to places of greater security, or for exchange.

That prisoners of war, either on their march, or in confinement, be furnished with only two thirds of a soldier's ration :

That none but sick or wounded prisoners be allowed carriages at public expence :

That all prisoners on parole pay their own expences, and such expences shall be paid before they shall be exchanged :

That all officers, prisoners of war to the United States, unless in hospitals, pay their physicians, surgeons and attendants :

That the commissary general of prisoners and his deputies, make regular monthly returns to the board of war of the numbers, situation and exchanges of all prisoners under their charge, and that they also give the said board such occasional information, of all material transactions in their department, as circumstances from time to time render necessary, or when they shall be required by the board so to do, under pain of being suspended or dismissed by the said board :

That all exchanges of prisoners made in consequence of the foregoing resolutions, shall be soldier for soldier and sailor for sailor.

Whereas brigadier general du Portail and colonel Laumoy, and lieutenant colonel de Gouvion, have continued in the service of the United States pursuant to a resolution of Congress of the 1st of January, 1779, and under a permission from the minister plenipotentiary of his Most Christian Majesty, and have obtained from the commander in chief ample testimonials of honorable and useful services rendered during the last campaign :

Resolved, That brigadier general du Portail and messieurs Laumoy and Gouvion be retained in the service of the United States (if permission can be obtained for that purpose from his Most Christian Majesty or his minister plenipotentiary) so long, during the present war, as shall be consistent with their inclinations and duty as officers to their King :

That the board be directed to confer with the minister of France on the subject, and inform general du Portail and Messieurs Laumoy and Gouvion of the result of such conference.

Resolved, That the commander in chief be authorised to order so many expresses to be retained in the public service vice as he may judge necessary for the immediate purposes of the army.

Resolved, That the board of treasury be directed to report proper salaries for such officers of the United States as have acted without stipulated allowances, and also what denominations of officers are entitled by resolutions of Congress to receive commissions, and at what rate, on the sums which they have respectively negotiated.

Whereas by the eleventh article of the treaty of amity and commerce between His Most Christian Majesty and the United States of America, it is provided that, "the subjects and inhabitants of the said United States, or any one of them, shall not be reputed aubains in France, and consequently shall be exempted from the Droit d'Aubaine, or other similar duty under what name soever: they may by testament, donation or otherwise, dispose of their goods, moveable and immoveable, in favour of such persons as to them shall seem good, and their heirs subjects of the said United States, residing, whether in France or elsewhere, may succeed them, ab intestat, without being obliged to obtain letters of naturalization, and without having the effect of this concession contested or impeded under pretext of any rights or prerogatives of provinces, cities or private persons: and the said heirs, whether such by particular title or ab intestat, shall be exempt from all duty called Droit de Detraction, or other duty of the same kind; saying nevertheless the local rights or duties as much and as long as similar ones are not established by the United States or any of them. The subjects of the Most Christian King shall enjoy, on their part, in all the dominions of the said states, an entire and perfect reciprocity relative to the stipulations contained in the present article; but it is agreed at the same time, that its contents shall not affect the laws made or that may be made hereafter in France, against emigrations, which shall remain in all their force and vigor; and the United States, on their part or any of them shall be at liberty to enact such laws relative to that matter as to them shall seem proper."

Resolved, That it be recommended to the legislatures of the several United States to make provision, where not already made, for conferring like privileges and immunities on the subjects of His Most Christian Majesty, agreeable to the form and spirit of the above recited article.

A PROCLAMATION FOR A FAST.

IT having pleased the righteous Governor of the World, for the punishment of our manifold offences, to permit the sword of war still to harrafs our country, it becomes us to endeavour, by humbling our selves before him, and turning from every evil way, to avert his anger and obtain his favour and blessing: it is therefore hereby recommended to the several states,

That WEDNESDAY, the twenty-sixth day of April next, be set apart and observed as a day of FASTING, HUMILIATION and PRAYER, that we may with one heart heart and one voice implore the Sovereign Lord of Heaven and Earth to remember mercy in his judgments ;--to make us sincerely penitent for our transgressions ;--to prepare us for deliverance, and to remove the evils with which he hath been pleased to visit us ;--to banish vice and irreligion from among us, and establish virtue and piety by his divine grace ;--to bless all public Councils throughout the United States, giving them wisdom, firmness and unanimity, and directing them to the best measures for the public good ;--to bless the Magistrates and people of every rank, and animate and unite the hearts of all to promote the interests of their country ; to bless the public defence, inspiring all Commanders and Soldiers with magnanimity and perseverance, and giving vigour and success to the military operations by sea and land ; to bless the illustrious Sovereign and the nation in alliance with these States, and all who interest themselves in the support of our rights and liberties ;--to make that alliance of perpetual and extensive usefulness to those immediately concerned, and mankind in general ;--to grant fruitful seasons, and to bless our industry, trade and manufactures ;--to bless all schools and seminaries of learning, and every means of instruction and education ;--to cause wars to cease, and to establish peace among the nations.

And it is further recommended, that servile labour and recreations be forbidden on the said day.

S A T U R D A Y,

SATURDAY, March 18, 1781.

THESE United States having been driven into this just and necessary war at the time when no regular civil governments were established, of sufficient energy to enforce the collection of taxes, or to provide funds for the redemption of such bills of credit as their necessities obliged them to issue; and before the powers of Europe were sufficiently convinced of the justice of their cause, or of the probable event of the controversy to afford them aid or credit, in consequence of which, their bills encreasing in quantity beyond the sum necessary for the purpose of a circulating medium, and wanting at the same time specific funds to rest on for their redemption, they have seen them daily sink in value, notwithstanding every effort that has been made to support the same; insomuch that they are now passed by common consent in most parts of these United States, at least thirty-nine fortieths below their nominal value, and still remain in a state of depreciation, whereby the community suffers great injustice, the public finances are deranged, and the necessary dispositions for the defence of the country are much impeded and perplexed; and whereas, effectually to remedy these evils for which purpose the United States are now become competent, their independence being well assured, their civil governments established and vigorous, and the spirit of their citizens ardent for exertion, it is necessary speedily to reduce the quantity of the paper medium in circulation, and to establish and appropriate funds that shall ensure the punctual redemption of the bills; therefore

Resolved, That the several states continue to bring into the continental treasury by taxes, or otherwise, their full quotas of fifteen million dollars monthly, as assigned them by the resolution of the 7th of October 1779; a clause in the resolution of the 23d of February last, for relinquishing two thirds of the said quotas to the contrary notwithstanding; and that the states be further called on to make provision for continuing to bring into the said treasury their like quotas monthly to the month of April, one thousand seven hundred and eighty-one, inclusive:

That silver and gold be receiveable in payment of the said quotas at the rate of one Spanish milled dollar, in lieu of forty dollars of the bills now in circulation. That

That the said bills as paid in, except for the months of January and February past, which may be necessary for the discharge of past contracts, be not re-issued but destroyed:

That as fast as the said bills shall be brought in to be destroyed, and funds shall be established as hereafter mentioned for other bills, other bills be issued not to exceed on any account one twentieth part of the nominal sum of the bills brought in to be destroyed.

That the bills which shall be issued, be redeemable in specie, within six years after the present, and bear an interest at the rate of five per centum per annum, to be paid also in specie at the redemption of the bills, or at the election of the holder annually at the respective continental loan-offices, in sterling bills of exchange drawn by the United States on their commissioners in Europe, at four shillings and six-pence sterling per dollar.

That the said new bills issue on the funds of individual states for that purpose established, and be signed by persons appointed by them, and that the faith of the United States be also pledged for the payment of the said bills, in case any state on whose funds they shall be emitted, should by the events of war be rendered incapable to redeem them; which undertaking of the United States, and that of drawing bills of exchange for payment of interest as aforesaid, shall be indorsed on the bills to be emitted, and signed by a commissioner to be appointed by Congress for that purpose.

That the face of the bills to be emitted read as follows, viz.

The possessor of this bill shall be paid Spanish milled dollars, by the thirty-first day of December, 1786, with interest in like money at the rate of five per cent. per annum, by the state of _____, according to an act of the legislature of the said state, of the _____ day of _____ 1780.

And the indorsement shall be as follows, viz.

The United States insure the payment of the within bill, and will draw bills of exchange for the interest annually if demanded, according to a resolution of Congress of the 18th day of March, 1780,

That the said new bills shall be struck under the direction of the board of treasury, in due proportion for each state according to their said monthly quotas, and lodged in

in the continental loan-offices in the respective states, where the commissioner to be appointed by Congress in conjunction with such persons as the respective states appoint, shall attend the signing of the said bills, which shall be compleated no faster than in the aforesaid proportion of one to twenty of the other bills brought in to be destroyed, and which shall be lodged for that purpose in the said loan-offices.

That as the said new bills are signed and compleated, the states respectively, on whose funds they issue, receive six tenths of them, and that the remainder be subject to the orders of the United States, and credited to the states on whose funds they are issued, the accounts whereof shall be adjusted agreeably to the resolution of the sixth of October, 1779.

That the said new bills be receivable in payment of the said monthly quotas at the same rate as aforesaid of specie; the interest thereon to be computed to the respective states, to the day the payment becomes due.

That the respective states be charged with such parts of the interest on their said bills, as shall be paid by the United States in bills of exchange, and the accounts thereof shall be adjusted agreeably to the resolution aforesaid of the sixth of October, 1779.

That whenever interest on the bills to be emitted shall be paid prior to their redemption, such bills shall be thereupon exchanged for others of the like tenor, to bear date from the expiration of the year for which such interest is paid.

That the several states be called on to provide funds for their quotas of the said new bills, to be so productive as to sink or redeem one sixth part of them annually after the first day of January next.

That nothing in the foregoing resolution shall be construed to ascertain the proportions of the expence incurred by the war, which each state on a final adjustment ought to be charged with, or to exclude the claims of any state to have the prices at which different states have furnished supplies for the army hereafter taken into consideration and equitably adjusted.

That the foregoing resolutions, with a letter from the president, be dispatched to the executive of the several states, and that they be requested to call their assemblies, if not

not already convened, as speedily as possible to take them into immediate consideration, to establish ample and certain funds for the purposes therein mentioned, and to take every other measure necessary to carry the same into full and vigorous effect, and that they transmit their acts for that purpose to Congress without delay.

That it be further recommended that the said laws be enacted in such manner that no persons may take unjust advantage to defeat the good purposes of this resolution, by availing themselves of the notice thereof, before the passing of the several acts.

T U E S D A Y, March 21, 1780.

INSTRUCTIONS to the COMMITTEE to be appointed to go to Camp.

Gentlemen,

YOU are to confer with the commander in chief on the subjects contained in the resolution for your appointment, and such others as are committed to your charge by the following instructions :

1st. You are to consult him on the propriety of reducing the number of regiments ; you may with his advice, reduce, incorporate or unite to state lines the several additional corps.

2d. You, together with the commander in chief, are to limit the number of horses to be kept by the officers of the line and regimental staff, and to make such regulations, with respect to the soldiers employed as servants, as will, as far as is consistent with the convenience of the officers they serve, enable the United States to avail themselves of their services as soldiers.

3d. Together with the commander in chief, you are to suggest such measures, and to form such plans, for the general advantage of the officers and soldiers, with respect to cloathing and necessary supplies, as will tend to remove all just ground of complaint, which Congress sincerely lament that there should be any room for, and to adapt them to the abilities and circumstances of these United States, and immediately to lay them before Congress.
to

4th. You are to consult with the commander in chief and the commissary and quarter-master general about the defects of the present system, the abuses to which it is liable, and the best method of reforming the same : In doing this you will pay a particular attention to the report referred to you in your appointment, and adopt, amend, or alter the same, in such manner as shall upon full consideration, appear to you most adviseable ; and you are hereby fully empowered to carry into execution any plan for conducting the quartermaster and commissary departments, which, upon advice with the commander in chief, and the heads thereof, you shall approve ; always reflecting that supplies are to be drawn forth by the respective states, agreeably to the resolutions of the 25th of February last.

5th. You are to enquire minutely into the management of the hospitals and medical department, and after consulting the commander in chief and director general, you are empowered to discharge unnecessary officers, to retrench expences, to abolish purveyorships, unless where they shall appear absolutely necessary ; to contrive modes for checking their accounts, and to limit the number of horses which the officers of that department shall be permitted to keep, providing that they be as few as possible, bearing in mind that the resources of the country are much drained, and that it is more expedient that individuals should feel temporary inconveniences, than to involve our affairs in a general ruin.

6th. You are to enquire into the management of the hide department, and to reform or abolish the same, substituting contracts in lieu thereof, if, upon advising with the commander in chief, it shall appear most salutary.

7th. You are to pay particular attention to the department of ordnance and military stores, and, after consulting with the commander in chief, and the heads of the departments, to lay down such rules for the management thereof as to you shall seem necessary.

8th. After the establishment of general regulations, you shall visit the different posts, as far as you shall judge necessary, in order to see the same carried into execution ; in doing of which you are vested with joint and separate powers.

You

FRIDAY, April 21, 1780.

Mr. James Henry, a delegate for Virginia, attended and took his seat in Congress.

Whereas it appears to Congress that accidental preferences have been given in some instances to particular officers, owing as well to local circumstances as to the want of a certain ratio by which the subsistence of each respective claimant might be ascertained, agreeable to the length of time he had been in captivity ; and whereas it further appears to Congress that twenty-six officers, taken at fort Montgomery the 16th of October, 1777, and fourteen taken between the 16th of October, 1777, and May, 1778, and seventeen, taken August 22, 1777, at Staten-Island, have received the sum of thirty-two pounds, New-York money, more than other officers who were captured about the same period of time ; and moreover that those who were on parole upon Long-Island, before the arrival of the Philadelphia prisoners at New-York, have received an al-allowance of two dollars a week for their board, of which those confined in Philadelphia had not the benefit.

Resolved, That, as Congress mean to extend their care and attention, without distinction, to all their officers who have the misfortune to be captured by the enemy, the sum of four thousand, one hundred and ninety-four pounds, New-York money, in specie, equal to ten thousand, four hundred and eighty-five dollars, be placed in the hands of the commissary general of prisoners, out of which he be directed to pay to each of the officers confined in Philadelphia, while the enemy had possession of the city, and now in captivity, the sum of thirty-two pounds like money, equal to eighty dollars, and the farther sum of        to the same persons respectively, to be computed at the rate of two dollars a week from the time of their being prisoners until their board was paid by the public.

That a farther sum of money in specie, equal to one thousand four hundred and ninety-three pounds, New-York currency, equal to three thousand seven hundred & thirty-two dollars and one half, be put into the hands of the commissary general of prisoners, for the purpose of levelling all the officers, agreeably to the different terms of their captivity, to the end that each individual may, according to his circumstances, participate of an equal share of the public provision.

And whereas it hath been represented to Congress, that a farther sum of money is requisite for all the officers in captivity, as well those who have been lately captured as those who have been in that situation for any length of time, for the purposes of paying their board, purchasing cloathing and other necessaries ; therefore

Resolved, That the sum of twelve thousand four hundred and sixty-three pounds, like currency, in specie, equal to thirty-one thousand one hundred and fifty-seven dollars and a half, be advanced to the commissary general of prisoners, which he be directed to distribute among all the officers in captivity ; and that the consideration of any farther allowance or comparative preference be postponed to some future period.

That a farther sum of two thousand five hundred pounds like money, equal to six thousand two hundred and fifty dollars, dollars, be advanced to the commissary general of prisoners, for the purpose of supplying the sick soldiers and sailors in captivity with necessaries, and for other contingent expences relating to the prisoners.

Resolved, That general Washington be impowered, when properly applied to for that purpose, to authorise an agent or commissary of prisoners, appointed by the enemy to reside in such of these states as he shall direct, and with powers similar to those granted to a like officer in behalf of the United States, and allowed by the enemy to be exercised within their lines.

Resolved, That the request contained in the memorial of John Skey Eustace, late a major in the army of the United States, to be allowed the benefits of the resolution of the 10th of April last, for making good to the army the deficiency of their original pay, occasioned by the depreciation of the continental bills of credit, cannot be granted.

Resolved, That the mode of carrying into effect the resolution olution of Congress of the 21st of April last, respecting an agent or commissary of prisoners, be submitted to the discretion of the commander in chief.

Resolved, That it be recommended to the legislatures of the respective states wherein such notes or certificates have been heretofore given, and remain unpaid, to empower the collectors of the continental taxes, due to the first of March last, to receive in payment thereof such notes or certificates, from the persons in whose names they have been given, on the following conditions:

That the persons paying in the said notes or certificates, indorse the same to the collectors, who may receive them, and also take an oath or affirmation, before a magistrate, that they have been obtained for the value and the articles therein expressed, delivered for the use of the United States, and for which no payment hath been made; which oath or affirmation shall be indorsed on each note or certificate;

Provided that nothing contained in the foregoing resolution shall be construed to exonerate any state from the payment of orders already drawn, or to affect the requisition of Congress of the 19th day of the present month.

Resolved, That Congress will defray every necessary expence which any state shall incur in consequence of the above resolution.

That the said garrison be under the particular direction and superintendence of his excellency governor Clinton, subject however to the orders of the commander in chief of the continental army.

That if the number of troops necessary to garrison this post cannot be conveniently spared, but of those already voted by Congress, for the defence of the frontiers of the state of New-York, Congress approve of the employing from time to time, at the expence of the United States, such numbers of militia as may be sufficient for that purpose, so as that the whole employed in this service do not exceed one hundred and fifty men, with the proper proportion of officers.

Resolved, That the president and council of the state of New-Hampshire, be authorized to embody and maintain, at the expence of the United States, any number of men not exceeding two hundred and fifty rank and file, with a proportionable number of officers, to assist in guarding the frontiers of the said state.

Resolved, That his excellency governor Livingston, be informed, in answer to his letter of May 16th, that sundry applications have heretofore been made to Congress for relief in cases that are not distinguishable from the case of John Hopper, mentioned in his letter aforesaid, and many cases exist to which the principle advanced by his excellency will apply; but Congress though deeply affected by their calamities, have not yet found it expedient to enter into a consideration of measures for the particular relief of such sufferers; nor is it probable that the inevitable exigencies of the war will permit Congress to enter into such considerations until peace shall be restored to the United States.

F R I D A Y, June 2, 1780.

Mr. Daniel, of St. Thomas Jenifer, a delegate for the state of Maryland, attended and produced the credentials of his appointment, which were read.

Congress resumed the consideration of the report of the committee on sundry papers respecting the New-Hampshire Grants, and thereupon came to the following resolutions:

Whereas it is represented to Congress, and by authentic evidence laid before them it appears, that the people inhabiting the district of country, commonly known by the name of the New-Hampshire Grants, and claiming to be an independent state, have, notwithstanding the resolutions of Congress of the 24th of September, and 2d of October, proceeded as a separate government to make grants of lands and sales of estates by them declared forfeited and confiscated; and have also, in divers instances, exercised civil and military authority over the persons and effects of sundry inhabitants within the said district, who profess themselves to be citizens of and to owe allegiance to the state of New-York.

Resolved, That the acts and proceedings of the people inhabiting the said district, and claiming to be an independent state as aforesaid, in contravening the good intentions of the said resolutions of the 24th of September and the 2d of October last, are highly unwarrantable, and subversive of the peace and welfare of the United States.

That the people inhabiting the said district, and claiming to be an independent state as aforesaid, be and they hereby are strictly required to forbear and abstain from all acts of authority, civil or military over the inhabitants of any town or district who hold themselves to be subjects of and to owe allegiance to any of the states claiming the jurisdiction of the said territory, in whole or in part, until the decisions and determinations in the resolution aforementioned shall be made.

And whereas the states of New-Hampshire and New-York have complied with the said resolutions of the 24th of September and the 2d of October last, and by their agents and delegates in Congress declared themselves ready to proceed in supporting their respective rights to the jurisdiction of the district aforesaid, in whole or in part, according to their several claims, and in the mode prescribed in the said resolutions : and whereas Congress, by their order of the 21st of March last, did postpone the consideration of the subject of the said resolutions, nine states exclusive of those who were parties to the question not being represented ; and by their order of the 17th of May last have directed that letters be written to the states not represented, requesting them immediately to send forward a representation.

Resolved, That Congress will, as soon as nine states exclusive of those who are parties to the controversy shall be represented, proceed to hear and examine into and finally determine the disputes and differences relative to jurisdiction between the three states of New-Hampshire, Massachusetts-Bay and New-York, respectively, or such of them as shall have passed such laws as are mentioned in the said resolutions of the 24th of September and the 2d of October last, on the one part, and the people of the district aforesaid, who claim to be a separate jurisdiction, on the other, in the mode prescribed in and by the said resolutions.

That the honorable the minister of France be informed that it is the opinion of Congress that the public service will be best promoted by having the same currency made use of, as far as may be, to procure supplies for the forces of his Most Christian Majesty, as for those of these United States.

That the governors of Virginia and Maryland be requested immediately to engage trusty persons in these states respectively, at proper distances from each other, on the main road, from Cape Henry in Virginia, to Philadelphia, to hold themselves in readiness, should the French fleet be discovered off that cape or the adjacent coasts, to forward intelligence thereof, and any dispatches that may be received from them to Congress, in the most expeditious manner.

The committee to whom was referred the note from the honorable the minister of France, brought in a report, which was read, and thereupon,

Resolved, That the minister of France be informed that Congress have used every means in their power to fulfil their engagements of January last ; that they have apportioned the quotas of the several states, and called upon them most earnestly to compleat the same ; that the surrender of Charlestown, and the diversion of our force to the southern department, together with the heavy loss sustained by fatigue and desertion in a long and toilsome march, have for the present considerably weakened the main army ; that Congress have endeavoured to replace these deficiencies, by demanding large additional supplies of recruits and militia from the middle and eastern states, to take the field by the first of July ; that their requests have been frequently reiterated in the strongest terms ; that they have reason to believe that many of them are making great efforts to comply with their demand ; and that they are not without well grounded expectations that the importance of the occasion will awaken all to the most vigorous exertions ; that Congress have demanded from each state immediate information.

formation of the measures they have adopted in consequence of their requisition ; that they hope to be thereby enabled more fully to satisfy the wishes of the minister of France, relative to the matters contained in his memorial ; that they do full justice to the solicitude to the minister of France, for the advancement of the mutual interests of his most christian majesty and these United States, and see with pleasure, in the warmth with which he urges measures evidently calculated for the immediate advantage of these states, the intimacy of the union between the allied powers.

And whereas Congress did, in behalf of the United States, assure his most christian majesty, by their act of 31st January last, that they would bring into the field twenty-five thousand men, exclusive of officers, and at the same time solicit a naval force to co-operate against the common enemy ; and whereas advice has been received from the court of France, that his most christian majesty, in compliance with the solicitations of Congress, hath not only directed a considerable naval force to repair to North-America, but hath subjoined thereto a respectable body of land forces ; and whereas Congress, in consequence of their engagements by their act of February last, did call on the several states to compleat their quota of troops to the establishment mentioned in the said act ; which quota they have since, from the disaster at Charlestown, found it necessary to encrease, and have accordingly approved the requisitions of their committee at Head-quarters ; and whereas none of the states, whose battalions were deficient, have yet sent on their recruits to compleat the same, nor afforded any assurances that the requisitions of Congress, and their committee, will be complied with ; and whereas the execution of the above requisition will be extremely hazardous and expensive, unless the further demands of Congress and their committee, for provision, are punctually complied with ; therefore,

Resolved, That the said states be requested explicitly, and without the least delay, to inform Congress how far they may rely upon their furnishing the several supplies of men, money and provisions called for by Congress or their committee at head-quarters.

And

And whereas the legislatures of many of the United States are not now convened, though earnestly requested by Congress to continue their sessions, or to vest in some person such powers as would enable them on the requisition of Congress or their committee, to draw forth the military resources of the state; and whereas Congress are not fully informed whether their magistrates are so empowered:

Resolved, That the supreme executive magistrate, in each state, where the legislature is not now convened, be requested immediately to inform Congress what measures they have taken, or empowered to take in compliance with the above requisitions of Congress, in order that Congress, whose duty it is, may provide that effectual measures be taken that every state in the union contribute their quota to the common defence.

Resolved, That the executive magistrate of every state be requested to correspond weekly with the committee of Congress at head-quarters, advising them of the measures actually taken from time to time in pursuance of the above recited requisitions of Congress and their committee.

A letter of this day from the board of war was read, informing "that a number of patriotic persons have formed a plan for the establishment of a bank, whose object is the public service; that the directors have applied to that board to represent to Congress the desire of the company that a committee of this body may be appointed to confer with the inspectors and directors on the subject to-morrow morning," whereupon

Ordered, That a committee of three be appointed for the purpose above mentioned.

The members chosen Mr. Ellsworth, Mr. Duane, and Mr. Scott.

T H U R S D A Y, June 22, 1780.

Mr. Willie Jones, a delegate for North-Carolina, attended and produced the credentials of the delegates of that state, which were read.

The committee appointed to confer with the inspectors and directors of the proposed bank, brought in a report, which was read;

The

The committee also laid before Congress the plan of the bank, communicated to them at the said conference, which being read, Congress thereupon came to the following resolutions :

Whereas a number of the patriotic citizens of Pennsylvania, have communicated to Congress a liberal offer, on their own credit and by their own exertions, to supply and transport three millions of rations and 300 hogshheads of rum for the use of the army, and have established a bank for the sole purpose of obtaining and transporting the said supplies, with greater facility and dispatch : and whereas, on the one hand the associators, animated to this laudable exertion by a desire to relieve the public necessities, mean not to derive from it the least pecuniary advantage, so on the other, it is just and reasonable that they should be fully reimbursed and indemnified ; therefore

Resolved unanimously, That Congress entertain a high sense of the liberal offer of the said associators to raise and transport the beforementioned supplies for the army, and do accept the same as a distinguished proof of their patriotism.

Resolved, That the faith of the United States, be and the same hereby is pledged to the subscribers to the said bank, for their effectual reimbursement and indemnity in the premises.

Resolved, That the board of treasury be directed to deposit in the said bank bills of exchange in favor of the directors thereof, on the ministers of these United States, in Europe or any of them, and in such sums as shall be thought convenient, but not to exceed in the whole one hundred and fifty thousand pounds sterling ; that the said bills are to be considered not only as a support of the credit of the said bank, but as an indemnity to the subscribers for all deficiencies of losses and expences which they may sustain on account of their said engagements, and which shall not, within six months from the date hereof, be made good to them out of the public treasury ; and in case of failure such a proportion of the said bills as shall be requisite to make good the said deficiency shall be negociated for that purpose by the said directors, and the residue thereof returned into the treasury.

Resolved, That, upon representation made that the bank bank stands in need of occasional assistance, Congress will advance as much of their current money as can be spared from other services.

Resolved, That a standing committee of Congress be appointed to confer with the officers of the said bank, as occasion may require.

The members chosen Mr. Ellsworth, Mr. Duane and Mr. Scott.

FRIDAY, June 23, 1780.

Mr. Henry, a delegate from Maryland, attended and took his seat in Congress.

Ordered, That an extract of the letter of the 20th from general Washington be sent by express to each of the states, from New-Hampshire to Maryland, inclusive, and that the executive powers be most earnestly requested to forward on the supplies of men and provision with the utmost expedition, and transmit to Congress and the committee at head-quarters, with all possible dispatch, an account of the proceedings of their respective states, on which the commander in chief can rely, and by which he may be enabled to regulate his future operations.

A letter of the 22d from major general Lincoln was read, informing Congress of his arrival in Philadelphia, and that, stimulated by the double motive of regard to the honor of Congress and his own reputation, he embraces the earliest opportunity of requesting that, agreeably to the resolution of November 28th, 1777, an enquiry may be immediately made into the causes of the loss of Charles-Town, which has been announced to Congress, and into his conduct as principal officer at that post when it was given up whereupon,

Resolved, That the commander in chief be directed, as soon as circumstances shall admit, to cause an enquiry to be made into the loss of Charles-Town in South-Carolina, and into the conduct of the said major general Lincoln, late commanding officer in the southern department, and cause the proceedings of the court of enquiry to be laid before Congress.

Resolved, That the honorable M. Weare, president of New-Hampshire, be informed, that the pressing exigencies of the United States will not admit of the least deduction from the public revenue at present; that Congress cannot now liquidate the accounts of the state of New-Hampshire or any other state with the United States; but that due attention will be paid to the claims of New-Hampshire whenever the circumstances of public affairs of a more serious nature will enable them to take them into consideration.

Whereas it has been represented, in order to seduce the citizens of South-Carolina, and Georgia from their allegiance to these United States, that a treaty of peace between America and Great-Britain was about to take place, in which these two states would be ceded to Great-Britain.

Resolved unanimously, That the said report is insidious and utterly void of foundation.

That this confederacy is most sacredly pledged to support the liberty and independence of every one of its members; and, in a firm reliance on the divine blessing, will unremittingly persevere in their exertions for the establishment of the same, and also in the recovery and preservation of any and every part of these United States that has been or may hereafter be invaded or possessed by the common enemy.

Congress proceeded to the election of two commissioners of the board of admiralty; and the ballots being taken,

Mr. William Ellery and Mr. Thomas Woodford were elected.

SATURDAY, June 24, 1780,

The medical committee brought in a report: whereupon,

Resolved, That the medical committee be authorized to take proper measures for the sustenance and relief of the sick in this city, as well belonging to the army and navy of these states, as to those of our ally,

The committee to whom was referred the letter from the chambers of accounts, respecting certain directions given to them by the board of treasury, report,

That

That, by the ordinance for establishing a board of treasury and the proper officers for managing the finances of these United States, passed the 30th day of July, 1779, the board of treasury are entrusted with the general superintendence of the finances of these United States, and are required to see that all public debtors are brought to account, frauds detected, and defaulters punished; they are likewise empowered to instruct in their duty all officers concerned in the finances and accounts, and to suspend any of them for negligence or misdemeanor, until the pleasure of Congress is known; where objections shall be discovered against the reports of the commissioners or auditors, the board of treasury are to correct their errors; and where the commissioners or auditors may be in doubt, to instruct them; and it is provided, that all orders and instructions to the chambers of accounts and auditors of the army, shall be communicated through the auditor general.

From this review of the ordinance the committee observe,

That the board of treasury are made immediately responsible for the settlement of the public accounts, and that they are invested with a general superintending power over the chambers of accounts; that it is necessary to the execution of this high trust, that reasonable hours of office be assigned by the chambers, and publicly notified, that the board of treasury, as well as the public accountants, may know when to have recourse to them for the dispatch of public business; that the board of treasury, being expressly required to call public debtors to account, and to detect frauds, authority to direct the settlement of one account in preference to another, is necessarily implied; and it is the duty of the chambers to inform the board of treasury, whenever required, of their progress in the settlement of any of the public accounts.

It is also the opinion of the committee,

That the said chambers are bound to observe such general instructions for correcting errors, removing doubts, and facilitating the settlement of the public accounts, as shall be given to them by the board of treasury, conforming themselves, as far as possible, to fixed and established rules for administering justice equally and impartially between accountants and the public.

Resolved, That Congress agree to the said report.

Whereas it is represented by the medical committee, that difficulties arise in the hospital department, from the arrest of the director general :

Resolved, therefore, That the medical committee be and are hereby authorized to take proper measures for carrying on the business of the said department, and that all medical gentlemen and others attached to the said department, pay obedience to the orders of the said committee.

Whereas Congress, on the 18th day of April last, resolved in the words following, viz. That Congress will, as soon as may be, make such provision for discharging or continuing the loans that have been made to these United States on loan-office certificates, so as that the holders of them shall sustain no loss thereon by any depreciation of the bills loaned subsequent to the respective dates of the said certificates ; therefore,

Resolved, That the principal of all loans that have been made to these United States, shall finally be discharged, by paying the full current value of the bills when loaned, which payments shall be made in Spanish milled dollars, or the current exchange thereof in other money, at the time of payment.

That

That the value of the bills when loaned, shall be ascertained for the purpose above mentioned, by computing thereon a progressive rule of depreciation, commencing with the 1st day of September, 1777, and continuing to the 18th day of March, 1780, in geometrical proportion to the time, from period to period, as hereafter stated, assuming the depreciation at the several periods to be as follows, viz.

On the 1st day of March, 1778, one dollar and three quarters of a dollar of the said bills, for one Spanish milled dollar; on the 1st of September, 1778, as four of the former for one of the latter; on the 1st of March, 1779, as ten of the former for one of the latter; on the 1st day of September, 1779, as eighteen of the former for one of the latter; and on the 18th day of March, 1780, as forty of the former for one of the latter:

That the principal of all certificates that shall hereafter be taken out, until the further order of Congress, be discharged at the same rate and in the same manner as those that have been taken out since the 18th day of March last.

That the interest on all loan-office certificates, at the rate of six per cent. per annum, computed on the principal ascertained as aforesaid, shall be discharged annually, in like manner as the principal, until the principal shall be paid; provided nevertheless, that the same interest and mode of payment on certificates taken out before the first day of March, 1778, shall be continued as at present, until the principle ascertained as aforesaid be ready to be discharged.

Resolved

That an interest of six per cent. per annum, be allowed on such part as cannot be immediately discharged, until payment is made.

Whereas Congress have thought proper to erect a monument to the memory of major general Warren, in consideration of his distinguished merit and bravery, and to make provision for the education of his eldest son; and whereas it appears no adequate provision can be made out of his private fortune for the education and maintenance of his three younger children: therefore

Resolved, That it be recommended to the executive of Massachusetts-Bay to make provision for the maintenance and education of the said three children of the late major general Watren.

Resolved, That Congress will defray the expence thereof, to the amount of the half pay of a major general, to commence at the time of his death, and continue until the youngest of the said children shall be of age.

Congress resumed the consideration of the report of the committee for foreign affairs, on the letter of the 1st from Mr. Laurens, wherein they report as their opinion,

The resolution of May 5, 1778, is as follows :

Resolved, That the commissioners, or any one of them representing these states at the court of France, be instructed to inform that court, that although Congress have readily ratified the treaties of amity and commerce, and treaty of alliance, and the act separate and secret, between his most christian majesty and these United States, in order to evince more clearly their sense of the magnanimity and goodness of his most christian majesty, evidenced in the said treaties; yet from a sincere desire of rendering the friendship and alliance so happily begun, permanent and perpetual; and being apprehensive that differences may arise from the 11th and 12th articles, in the treaty of amity and commerce, Congress are desirous that the said 11th and 12th articles may be revoked and utterly expunged. The commissioners or any of them, are therefore instructed to use their best endeavours to procure the abolition of the said 11th and 12th articles of the said treaty.

In consequence of the foregoing representation, the following declarations were made, and signed in behalf of his most christian majesty, and of the United States of America.

A DECLARATION of the KING.

THE Congress of the United States of North-America having represented to the King, that the execution of the eleventh article of amity and commerce, signed the sixth of February last, may be attended with inconveniencies, and having

having in consequence thereof, desired that that article may be expunged, agreeing on their part, that the twelfth article shall be considered in the same manner as null and void : His Majesty, in order to give the United States of North-America a new proof of his affection as well as his desire to confirm the union and good correspondence established between the two States, has been pleased to pay a regard to their representations---accordingly he hath declared and by these presents doth declare that he consents to the suppression of the eleventh and twelfth articles above mentioned, and that his intention is, that they be considered as if never comprehended in the treaty signed the first of February last. -----DONE at Versailles, the first day of September, one thousand seven hundred and seventy-eight.

GRAVIER DE VERGENNES.

DECLARATION.

THE Most Christian King having been pleased to regard the representations made to him by the general Congress of North-America, relating to the eleventh article of the treaty of commerce, signed the sixth of February in the present year ; and his Majesty having therefore, consented that the said article should be suppressed, on condition that the twelfth article of the same treaty be equally regarded as of none effect, the above said general Congress hath declared on their part, and do declare, that they consent to the suppression of the eleventh and twelfth articles of the above mentioned treaty, and that their intention is, that these articles be regarded as having never been comprised in the treaty signed the sixth of February.---In faith whereof, &c.

Signed by

B. FRANKLIN,
ARTHUR LEE,
JOHN ADAMS.

The treaty, as it now stands, is as follows:

The Congress of the United States of New-Hampshire, Massachusetts-Bay, Rhode-Island, and Providence Plantations, Connecticut, New-York, New-Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North-Carolina, South-Carolina and Georgia, by the grace of God sovereign, free and independent, to all who shall see these presents, greeting:

WHEREAS, in and by our commission, dated at Philadelphia the 30th day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and seventy-six--Benjamin Franklin, one of the delegates in Congress from the state of Pennsylvania, and president of the convention of the said state, &c. Silas Deane, late a delegate from the state of Connecticut, and Arthur Lee, barrister at law, were nominated and appointed our commissioners, with full powers to treat, agree and conclude with his most christian majesty the king of France, or with such person or persons as should be by him for that purpose authorised, of and upon a true and sincere friendship, and a firm, inviolable and universal peace, for the defence, protection and safety of the navigation and mutual commerce of the subjects of his most christian majesty and the people of the United States, we promising in good faith to ratify whatsoever our said commissioners should transact in the premises: And whereas our said commissioners, in pursuance of their full powers, on the 6th day of February last, at Paris, with Conrad Alexander Gerard, royal Syndic of the city of Strasburg, secretary of his most christian majesty's council of state, by virtue of powers plenipotentiary to him granted by his most christian majesty, and dated the thirtieth day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and seventy-eight, did conclude and sign, on the part of the crown of France, and of the United States of America, a treaty of amity and commerce, in the following words.

TREATY of AMITY and COMMERCE.

THE most christian king and the thirteen United States of North-America, viz. New-Hampshire, Massachusetts-Bay, Rhode-Island, Connecticut, New-York, New-Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, ginia, North-Carolina, South-Carolina and Georgia, willing to fix, on an equitable and permanent manner, the rules which ought to be followed, relative to the correspondence and commerce which the two parties desire to establish between their respective countries, states and subjects, his most christian majesty and the said United States have judged that the said end could not be better obtained than by taking for the basis of their agreement the most perfect equality and reciprocity, and by carefully avoiding all those burthenfome preferences which are usually sources of debate, embarrassment and discontent, by leaving also each party at liberty to make, respecting navigation and commerce, those interior regulations which it shall find most convenient to itself; and by founding the advantage of commerce solely upon reciprocal utility and the just rules of free intercourse, reserving withal, to each party, the liberty of admitting at its pleasure other nations to a participation of the same advantages. It is in the spirit of this intention, and to fulfil these views, that his said majesty, having named and appointed for his plenipotentiary Conrad Alexander Gerard, royal syndic of the city of Strasburg, secretary of his majesty's council of state, and the United States on their part having fully empowered Benjamin Franklin, deputy from the state of Pennsylvania to the general Congress, and president of the convention of said state--Silas Deane, late deputy from the state of Connecticut, to the said Congress--and Arthur Lee, counsellor at law--the said respective plenipotentiaries, after exchanging their powers, and after mature deliberation, have concluded and agreed upon the following articles.

Art. 1; THERE shall be a firm, inviolable and universal peace, and a true and sincere friendship between the most christian king, his heirs and successors, and the United States of America, and the subjects of the most christian king and of the said states, and between the countries, islands, cities and towns, situate under the jurisdiction of the most christian king, and of the said United States, and the people and inhabitants of every degree without exception of persons or places, and the terms herein after mentioned, shall be perpetual between the most christian king, his heirs and successors, and the said United States.

Art.

Art. 2. The most christian king and the United States engage mutually not to grant any particular favor to other nations in respect of commerce and navigation, which shall not immediately become common to the other party, who shall enjoy the same favor freely, if the concession was freely made, or on allowing the same compensation if the concession was conditional.

Art. 3. The subjects of the most christian king shall pay in the ports, havens, roads, countries, islands, cities or towns of the United States, or any of them, no other or greater duties or imposts, of what nature soever they may be, or by what name soever called, than those which the nations most favored are or shall be obliged to pay, and they shall enjoy all the rights, liberties, privileges, immunities and exemptions in trade, navigation and commerce, whether in passing from one port in the said states to another, or in going to and from the same, from and to any part of the world, which the said nations do or shall enjoy.

Art. 4. The subjects, people and inhabitants of the said United States, and each of them, shall not pay in the ports, havens, roads, isles, cities and places under the domination of his most christian majesty, in Europe, any other or greater duties or imposts, of what nature soever they may be, or by what name soever called, than those which the most favored nations are or shall be obliged to pay, and they shall enjoy all the rights, liberties, privileges, immunities and exemptions in trade, navigation and commerce, whether in passing from one port in the said dominions in Europe to another, or in going to and from the same, from or to any part of the world, which the said nations do or shall enjoy.

Art. 5. In the above exemption is particularly comprised the imposition of one hundred sous per ton, established in France, on foreign ships, unless when the ships of the United States shall load with the merchandise of France for another port of the same dominion, in which case the said ships shall pay the duty above mentioned, so long as other nations the most favored shall be obliged to pay it; but it is understood that the said United States, or any of them, are at liberty, when they shall judge it proper, to establish a duty equivalent in the same case.

Art.

Art. 6. The most christian king shall endeavour, by all the means in his power, to protect and defend all vessels, and the effects belonging to the subjects, people or inhabitants of the said United States, or any of them, being in his ports, havens or roads, or on the seas near to his countries, islands, cities or towns, and to recover and restore to the right owners, their agents or attornies, all such vessels and effects which shall be taken within his jurisdiction, and the ships of war of his most christian majesty, or any convoy sailing under his authority, shall upon all occasions take under their protection all vessels belonging to the subjects, people or inhabitants of the said United States or any of them, and holding the same course or going the same way, and shall defend such vessels as long as they hold the same course, or go the same way, against all attacks, force or violence, in the same manner as they ought to protect and defend the vessels belonging to the subjects of the most christian king.

Art. 7. In like manner the said United States and their ships of war, sailing under their authority, shall protect and defend conformably to the tenor of the preceding article, all the vessels and effects belonging to the subjects of the most christian king, and use all their endeavours to recover and cause to be restored the said vessels and effects that shall have been taken within the jurisdiction of the said United States or any of them.

Art. 8. The most christian king will employ his good offices and interposition with the king or emperor of Morocco, or Fez, the Regencies of Algiers, Tunis and Tripoli, or with any of them, and also with every other prince, state or power, of the coast of Barbary, in Africa, and with the subjects of the said king, emperor, states and powers, and each of them, in order to provide as fully and efficaciously as possible for the benefit, conveniency, and safety of the said United States, and each of them, their subjects, people and inhabitants and their vessels and effects, against all violence, insult, attacks, or depredations on the part of the said princes and states of Barbary, or their subjects.

Art. 9. The subjects, inhabitants, merchants, commanders of ships, masters and mariners of the states, provinces, and dominions of each party respectively, shall abstain and forbear to fish in all places possessed, or which shall be possessed seised by the other party. The most christian king's subjects shall not fish in the havens, bays, creeks, roads, coasts or places, which the said United States, hold or shall hereafter hold and in like manner the subjects, people and inhabitants of the said United States shall not fish in the havens, bays, creeks, roads, coasts, or places which the most christian king possesses or shall hereafter possess, and if any ship or vessel shall be found fishing contrary to the tenor of this treaty the said ship or vessel with its lading, proof being made thereof, shall be confiscated. It is however understood that the exclusion stipulated in the present article shall take place only so long and so far as the most christian king or the United States shall not in this respect have granted an exemption to some other nation.

Art. 10. The United States, their citizens and inhabitants, shall never disturb the subjects of the most christian king in the enjoyment and exercise of the right of fishing on the banks of Newfoundland, nor in the indefinite and exclusive right which belongs to them on that part of the coast of that island, which is designed by the treaty of Utrecht, nor in the rights relative to all and each of the isles which belong to his most christian majesty, the whole conformable to the true sense of the treaties of Utrecht and Paris.

(Articles 11th and 12th suppressed.)

Art. 13. The subjects and inhabitants of the said United States, or any one of them, shall not be reputed aubenes in France, and consequently shall be exempted from the droit d'aubene, or other similar duty under what name soever; they may by testament, donation or otherwise, dispose of their goods moveable and immoveable in favor of such persons as to them shall seem good, and their heirs subjects of the said United States, residing whether in France or elsewhere, may succeed them, ab intestat without being obliged to obtain letters of naturalization and without having the effects of this concession contested or impeded under pretext of any rights or prerogatives of provinces, cities, or private persons; and the said heirs whether such by particular title or ab intestat, shall be exempt from all duty, called droit de detraction, or other duty of the same kind, saving nevertheless the local rights or duties, as much and as long as similar ones are not established by the United States or any of them. The subjects of the most christian king, shall enjoy on their part, in all the dominions of the said States an entire and perfect reciprocity relative to the stipulations contained in the present article. But it is agreed at the same time that its contents shall not affect the laws made, or that may be made hereafter in France, against emigrations, which shall remain in all their force and vigor, and the United States on their part, or any of them shall be at liberty to enact such laws relative to that matter as to them shall seem proper.

Art. 14. The merchant ships of either of the parties which shall be making into a port belonging to the enemy of the other ally, and concerning whose voyage and the specified goods on board them, there shall be just grounds of suspicion, shall be obliged to exhibit, as well upon the high seas, as in the ports and havens, not only their passports, but likewise certificates, expressly shewing that their goods are not of the number of those which have been prohibited as contraband.

Art. 15. If, by the exhibiting of the above said certificates, the other party discover there are any of those sort of goods which are prohibited and declared contraband, and consigned for a port under the obedience of his enemy it shall not be lawful to break up the hatches of such ship, or to open any chest, coffers, packs, casks, or any other vessels, found therein, or to remove the smallest parcels of her goods, whether such ship belongs to the subjects of France, or the inhabitants of the said United States, unless the lading be brought on shore in the presence of the officers of the court of admiralty, and an inventory thereof made ; but there shall be no allowance to sell, exchange, or alienate the same in any manner, until after that due and lawful process shall have been had against such prohibited goods, and the court of admiralty shall, by a sentence pronounced, have confiscated the same, saving always as well the ship itself, as any other goods found therein, which by this treaty are to be esteemed free ; neither may they be detained on pretence of their being as it were, infected by the prohibited goods, much less shall they be confiscated as lawful prize : But if not the whole cargo, but only part thereof shall consist of prohibited or contraband band goods, and the commander of the ship shall be ready and willing to deliver them to the captor, who has discovered them, in such case, the captor having received those goods, shall forthwith discharge the ship, and not hinder her by any means, freely to prosecute the voyage on which she was bound ;---but in case the contraband merchandize cannot be all received on board the vessel of the captor, then the captor may, notwithstanding the offer of delivering him the contraband goods, carry the vessel into the nearest port agreeable to what is above directed.

Art. 16. On the contrary it is agreed that whatever shall be found to be laden by the subjects and inhabitants of either party, on any ship belonging to the enemies of the other, or to their subjects, the whole, although it be not of the sort of prohibited goods, may be confiscated in the same manner as if it belonged to the enemy, except such goods and merchandize as were put on board such ship before the declaration of war, or even after such declaration, if so be it were done without the knowledge of such declaration, so that the goods of the subjects and people of either party, whether they be of the nature of such as are prohibited, or otherwise, which, as is aforesaid, were put on board any ship belonging to an enemy before the war or after the declaration of the same, without the knowledge of it, shall no ways be liable to confiscation, but shall well and truly be restored without delay to the proprietors demanding the same, but so as that, if the said merchandises be contraband, it shall not be any ways lawful to carry them afterwards to any ports belonging to the enemy. The two contracting parties agree that the term of two months being passed after the declaration of war, their respective subjects from whatever part of the world they come, shall not plead the ignorance mentioned in this article.

Art. 17. And that more effectual care may be taken for the security of the subjects and inhabitants of both parties, that they suffer no injury, by the men of war or privateers of the other party, all the commanders of the ships of his most christian majesty and of the said United States, and all their subjects and inhabitants shall be forbid doing any injury or damage to the other side, and if they act to the contrary they shall be punished, and shall more over be bound to make satisfaction for all matter of damage and the interest thereof by reparation under the pain and obligation of their persons and goods.

Art. 18. All ships and merchandize of what nature soever, which shall be rescued out of the hands of any pirates or robbers on the high seas, shall be brought into some port of either state, and shall be delivered to the custody of the officers of that port in order to be restored entire to the true proprietor as soon as due and sufficient proof shall be made concerning the property thereof.

Art. 19. It shall be lawful for the ships of war of either party, and privateers freely to carry whither soever they please the ships and goods taken from their enemies without being obliged to pay any duty to the officers of the admiralty or any other judges, nor shall such prizes be arrested or seized when they come to and enter the ports of the other party, nor shall the searcher or other officers of those places search the same or make examination concerning the lawfulness of such prizes, but they may hoist sail at any time and depart, and carry their prizes to the places expressed in their commissions which the commanders of such ships of war shall be obliged to shew; on the contrary no shelter or refuge shall be given in their ports, to such as shall have made prize of the subjects people or property of either of the parties, but if such shall come in, being forced by stress of weather or the danger of the sea, all proper means shall be vigorously used that they go out and retire from thence as soon as possible.

Art. 20. If any ship belonging to either of the parties their people or subjects shall, within the coasts or dominions of the other, stick upon the sands, or be wrecked, or suffer any other damage, all friendly assistance and relief shall be given to the persons shipwrecked, or such as shall be in danger thereof. And letters of safe conduct shall likewise be given to them for their free and quiet passage from thence, and the return of every one to his own country.

Art. 21. In case the subjects and inhabitants of either party with their shipping, whether public and of war or private, and of merchants, be forced through stress of weather, pursuit of pirates or enemies, or any other urgent necessity for seeking of shelter and harbour to retreat and enter into any of the rivers, bays, roads or ports, belonging to the other party, they shall be received and treated with all humanity and kindness, and enjoy all friendly protection and help, and they shall be permitted to refresh and provide themselves at reasonable rates with victuals and all things needful for the sustenance of their persons, or reparation of their ships, and conveniency of their voyage; and they shall no ways be detained or hindered from returning out of the said ports or roads, but may remove and depart when and whither they please, without any let or hindrance.

Art. 22. For the better promoting of commerce on both sides it is agreed that if a war should break out between the two nations, six months after the proclamation of war shall be allowed to the merchants in the cities and towns where they live, for selling and transporting their goods and merchandizes; and if any thing be taken from them, or any injury be done them within that term by either party, or the people or subjects of either, full satisfaction shall be made for the same.

Art. 23. No subjects of the most christian king shall apply for or take any commission or letters of marque, for arming any ship or ships to act as privateers against the said United States, or any of them, or against the subjects, people, or inhabitants of the said United States or any of them, or against the property of any of the inhabitants of any of them, from any prince or state, with which the said United States shall be at war; nor shall any citizen, subject, or inhabitant of the said United States, or any of them, apply for or take any commission or letters of marque, for arming any ship or ships to act as privateers against the subjects of the most christian king, or any of them, or the property of any of them, from any prince or state, with which the said king shall be at war; and if any person of either nation shall take such commissions or letters of marque he shall be punished as a pirate.

Art. 24. It shall not be lawful for any foreign privateers not belonging to the subjects of the most christian king, nor citizens of the said United States, who have commissions from any other prince or state at enmity with either nation, to fit their ships in the ports of either the one or the other of the aforesaid parties; to sell what they have taken, or in any other manner whatsoever, to exchange exchange their ships, merchandizes, or any other lading : neither shall they be allowed even to purchase victuals, except such as shall be necessary for their going to the next port of that prince or state from which they have commissions.

Art. 25. It shall be lawful for all and singular the subjects of the most christian king, and the citizens, people, and inhabitants of the said United States, to sail with their ships, with all manner of liberty and security, no distinction being made who are the proprietors of the merchandize laden thereon, from any port to the places of those who now are or hereafter shall be at enmity with the most christian king, or the United States. It shall likewise be lawful for the subjects and inhabitants aforesaid, to sail with the ships and merchandizes aforementioned, and to trade with the same liberty and security from the places, ports, and havens of those who are enemies of both or either party, without any opposition or disturbance whatsoever, not only directly from the places of the enemy aforementioned to neutral places, but also from one place belonging to an enemy to another place belonging to an enemy, whether they be under the jurisdiction of the same prince or under several : And it is hereby stipulated that free ships shall also give a freedom to goods, and that every thing shall be deemed to be free and exempt, which shall be found on board the ships belonging to the subjects of either of the confederates--although the whole lading or any part thereof should appertain to the enemies of either, contraband goods being always excepted. It is also agreed in like manner, that the same liberty be extended to persons who are on board a free ship, with this effect, that although they be enemies to both or either party, they are not to be taken out of that free ship, unless they are soldiers and in actual service of the enemies.

Art. 26. This liberty of navigation and commerce shall extend to all kinds of merchandises, excepting those only which are distinguished by the name of contraband, and under this name of contraband or prohibited goods, shall be comprehended arms, great guns, bombs with their fuses, and other things belonging to them, cannon ball, gunpowder, match, pikes, swords, lances, spears, halberds, mortars, petards, grenadoes, saltpetre, muskets, musket ball.

ball, bucklers, helmets, breastplates, coats of mail, and the like kind of arms proper for arming soldiers; musket rests, belts, horses with their furniture, and all other war-like instruments whatever. These merchandizes which follow shall not be reckoned among contraband or prohibited goods, that is to say, all sorts of cloths, and all other manufactures woven of any wool, flax, silk, cotton or any other materials whatever, all kinds of wearing apparel, together with the species whereof they are used to be made, gold and silver, as well coined as uncoined, tin, iron, latten, copper, brass, coals, as also wheat and barley, and any other kind of corn and pulse, tobacco, and likewise all manner of spices, salted and smoaked flesh, salted fish, cheese and butter, beer, oils, wines, sugars and all sorts of salts, and in general all provisions which serve for the nourishment of mankind and the sustenance of life; furthermore all kinds of cotton, hemp, flax, tar, pitch, ropes, cables, sails, sail cloths, anchors and any parts of anchors; also ships, masts, planks, boards and beams of what trees soever, and all other things proper either for building or repairing ships, and all other goods whatever, which have not been worked into the form of any instrument or thing prepared for war by land or by sea, shall not be reputed contraband, much less such as have been already wrought and made up for any other use, all which shall be wholly reckoned among free goods, as likewise all other merchandizes and things which are not comprehended and particularly mentioned in the foregoing enumeration of contraband goods, so that they may be transported and carried in the freest manner by the subjects of both confederates, even to places belonging to an enemy, such towns, or places, being only excepted as are at that time besieged, blocked up or invested.

Art. 27. To the end that all manner of dissensions and quarrels may be avoided and prevented on one side and the other, it is agreed that in case either of the parties hereto should be engaged in war, the ships and vessels belonging to the subjects or people of the other ally, must be furnished with sea-letters or passports, expressing the name, property and bulk of the ship, as also the name and place of habitation of the master or commander of the said ship, that it may appear thereby that the said ship really and truly truly belongs to the subjects of one of the parties, which passport shall be made out and granted according to the form annexed to this treaty; they shall likewise be recalled every year, that is if the ship happens to return home within the space of a year: It is likewise agreed that such ships being laden, are to be provided not only with passports, as above mentioned, but also with certificates containing the several particulars of the cargo, the place whence the ship sailed, and whither she is bound, that so it may be known whether any forbidden or contraband goods be on board of the same, which certificates shall be made out by the officers of the place whence the ship set sail, in the accustomed form, and if any one shall think it adviseable to express in the said certificates the persons to whom the goods on board belong, he may freely do so.

Art. 28. The ships of the subjects and inhabitants of either of the parties, coming upon any coast belonging to either of the said allies, but not willing to enter into port, or being entered into port, and not willing to unload their cargoes, or break bulk, they shall be treated according to the general rules prescribed or to be prescribed relative to the object in question.

Art. 29. If the ships of the said subjects, people or inhabitants of either of the parties shall be met with, either sailing along the coasts or on the high seas, by any ship of war of the other, or by any privateer, the said ship of war or privateer, for the avoiding of any disorder, shall remain out of cannon shot, and may send their boats on board the merchant ship which they shall so meet with, and may enter her to the number of two or three men only, to whom the master or commander of such ship or vessel shall exhibit his passport concerning the property of the ship, made out according to the form inserted in this present treaty, and the ship, when she shall have shewed such passport, shall be free and at liberty to pursue her voyage, so as it shall not be lawful to molest or search her in any manner, or to give her chace, or force her to quit her intended course.

Art. 30. It is also agreed, that all goods, when once put on board the ships or vessels of either of the two contracting parties, shall be subject to no further visitation, but all visitation or search shall be made beforehand, and all prohibited prohibited goods shall be stopped on the spot, before the same be put on board, unless there are manifest tokens or proofs of fraudulent practice. Nor shall either the persons or goods of the subjects of his most christian majesty, or the United States, be put under any arrest, or molested by any other kind of embargo, for that cause, and only the subject of that state to whom the said goods have been or shall be prohibited, and who shall presume to sell or alienate such sort of goods, shall be duly punished for the offence.

Art. 31. The two contracting parties grant mutually the liberty of having, each, in the ports of the other, consuls, vice-consuls, agents and commissaries, whose functions shall be regulated by a particular agreement.

Art. 32. And the more to favor and facilitate the commerce which the subjects of the United States may have with France, the most christian king will grant them in Europe one or more free ports, where they may bring and dispose of all the produce and merchandize of the thirteen United States, and his majesty will also continue to the subjects of the said states, the free ports which have been and are open in the French islands of America; of all which free ports the said subjects of the United States shall enjoy the use agreeable to the regulations which relate to them.

Art. 33. The present treaty shall be ratified on both sides, and the ratifications shall be exchanged in the space of six months, or sooner if possible.

In faith whereof the respective plenipotentiaries have signed the above articles, both in the French and English languages, declaring nevertheless that the present treaty was originally composed and concluded in the French language, and they have thereto affixed their seals.--Done at Paris, this 6th day of February, 1778.

The Congress of the United States of New-Hampshire, Massachusetts-Bay, Rhode-Island and Providence Plantations, Connecticut, New-York, New-Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North-Carolina, South-Carolina and Georgia, by the grace of God sovereign, free and independent, to all who shall see these presents, Greeting.

WHEREAS in and by our commission dated at Philadelphia, the 30th day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and seventy six; Benjamin Franklin, one of the delegates in Congress from the state of Pennsylvania, and president of the convention of the said state, &c. Silas Deane, late a delegate from the state of Connecticut, and Arthur Lee, barrister at law, were nominated and appointed our commissioners with full powers to treat, agree and conclude with his most christian majesty the king of France, or with such person or persons as should be by him for that purpose authorised of, and upon a true and sincere friendship, and a firm inviolable and universal peace for the defence, protection and safety of the navigation and mutual commerce of the subjects of his most christian majesty and the people of the United States, we promising in good faith to ratify whatsoever our said commissioners should transact in the premises: And whereas our said commissioners, in pursuance of their full powers, on the sixth day of February last, at Paris, with Conrad Alexander Gerard, royal syndic of the city of Strasburg, secretary of his most christian majesty's council of state, by virtue of powers plenipotentiary to him granted by his most christian majesty, and dated the thirtieth day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and seventy-eight, did conclude and sign on the part of the crown of France, and of the United States of America, a treaty of alliance in the following words.

“TREATY of ALLIANCE EVENTUAL and DEFENSIVE.”

THE most christian king and the United States of North-America, to wit, New-Hampshire, Massachusetts-Bay, Rhode-Island, Connecticut, New-York, New-Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North-Carolina, South-Carolina and Georgia, having this day concluded a treaty of amity and commerce, for the reciprocal advantage of their subjects and citizens, have thought it necessary to take into consideration the means of strengthening those engagements, and of rendering them useful to the safety and tranquility of the two parties, particularly in case Great-Britain, in resentment of that connection, and of the good correspondence which is the object of the said treaty, should break the peace with France, either by direct hostilities, or by hindering her commerce and navigation in a manner contrary to the rights of nations, and the peace subsisting between the two crowns: And his majesty and the said United States having resolved in that case to join their councils and efforts against the enterprizes of their common enemy, the respective plenipotentiaries empowered to concert the clauses and conditions proper to fulfil the said intentions, have, after the most mature deliberation, concluded and determined on the following articles:

Art. 1. If war should break out between France and Great-Britain, during the continuance of the present war between the United States and England, his majesty and the said United States shall make it a common cause, and aid each other mutually with their good offices, their counsels and their forces, according to the exigence of conjunctures, as becomes good and faithful allies.

Art. 2. The essential and direct end of the present defensive alliance is, to maintain effectually the liberty, sovereignty and independence, absolute and unlimited, of the said United States, as well in matters of government as of commerce.

Art. 3. The two contracting parties shall each, on its own part, and in the manner it may judge most proper, make all the efforts in its power against their common enemy in order to attain the end proposed.

Art. 4. The contracting parties agree, that in case either of them should form any particular enterprize, in which the concurrence of the other may be desired, the party whose concurrence is desired, shall readily and with good faith join to act in concert, for that purpose, as far as circumstances, and its own particular situation will permit, and in that case they shall regulate, by a particular convention, the quantity and kind of succour to be furnished, and the time and manner of its being brought into action, as well as the advantages which are to be its compensation.

Art. 5. If the United States should think fit to attempt the reduction of the British power remaining in the northern parts of America, or the islands of Bermudas, those countries or islands, in case of success, shall be confederated with or dependant upon the said United States.

Art. 6. The most christian king renounces forever the possession of the island of Bermudas, as well as of any part of the continent of North-America, which, before the treaty of Paris in 1763, or in virtue of that treaty were acknowledged to belong to the crown of Great Britain, or to the United States, heretofore called British colonies, or which are at this time, or have lately been under the power of the king and crown of Great-Britain.

Art. 7. If his most christian majesty shall think proper to attack any of the islands situated in the gulph of Mexico, or near that gulph, which are at present under the power of Great-Britain, all the said isles, in case of success shall appertain to the crown of France.

Art. 8. Neither of the two parties shall conclude either truce or peace with Great-Britain, without the formal consent of the other first obtained, and they mutually engage not to lay down their arms, until the independence of the United States shall have been formally or tacitly assured by the treaty or treaties that shall terminate the war.

Art. 9. The contracting parties declare, that being resolved to fulfil, each on its own part, the clauses and conditions of the present treaty of alliance, according to its own power and circumstances, there shall be no after claim of compensation on one side or the other, whatever may be the event of the war.

Art.

Art. 10. The most christian king and the United States agree to invite or admit other powers who may have received injuries from England, to make common cause with them, and to accede to the present alliance under such conditions as shall be freely agreed to and settled between all the parties.

Art. 11. The two parties guarantee mutually from the present time, and forever, against all other powers, to wit, the United States to his most christian majesty, the present possessions of the crown of France in America, as well as those which it may acquire by the future treaty of peace; and his most christian majesty guarantees on his part to the United States their liberty, sovereignty and independence, absolute and unlimited, as well in matters of government as commerce, and also their possessions, and the additions or conquests that their confederation may obtain, during the war, from any of the dominions now or heretofore possessed by Great-Britain in North-America, conformable to the 5th and 6th articles above written, the whole as their possession shall be fixed and assured to the said states at the moment of the cessation of their present war with England.

Art. 12. In order to fix more precisely the sense and application of the preceding article, the contracting parties declare, that in case of a rupture between France and England, the reciprocal guarantee declared in the said article shall have its full force and effect the moment such war shall break out; and if such rupture shall not take place, the mutual obligations of the said guarantee shall not commence until the moment of the cessation of the present war between the United States and England, shall have ascertained their possessions.

Art. 13. The present treaty shall be ratified on both sides, and the ratifications shall be exchanged in the space of six months or sooner if possible.

In faith whereof, the respective Plenipotentiaries, to wit, on the part of the most christian king, Conrad Alexander Gerard, royal Syndic of the city of Strasbourg and Secretary of his Majesty's council of state; and on the part of the United States, Benjamin Franklin, deputy of the general Congress from the state of Pennsylvania, and president of the convention of the said state, Silas Deane, heretofore heretofore deputy from the state of Connecticut, and Arthur Lee, counsellor at law, have signed the above articles, both in the French and English languages, declaring nevertheless, that the present treaty was originally composed and concluded in the French language, and they have hereunto affixed their seals.

W H E R E A S Congress, on the 25th day of February last, resolved that the several states should be called on for certain supplies of beef, flour and other articles necessary for the ensuing campaign ; and that the same should be collected and deposited or delivered at the risque of the respective states, at such places, within each state respectively, as the commander in chief should judge most convenient ; and it being necessary to provide for the safe keeping and transportation of the stores which shall be so deposited, and to make a new regulation of the quartermaster's department.

Resolved, That there be one quartermaster general and one assistant quartermaster general, appointed by Congress, and one deputy quartermaster for the main army, and one for each separate army, to be appointed by the quartermaster general :

That the quartermaster general appoint one deputy for each state, if he shall judge so many to be necessary, and the same be approved by the board of war ; the person appointed to be approved of by the supreme executive of the state in which he is to be employed :

That each deputy, whether appointed for one state or more, shall appoint as many assistants as the service may necessarily require, and the quartermaster general shall approve ; and a return of such appointments shall be immediately mediately made to the board of war by the quartermaster general :

That all store-keepers, contractors, clerks, conductors, artificers and labourers, of whatever denomination, who may be found necessary for the well conducting the public business, be appointed by the deputies in their respective districts ; and that they employ them in such numbers, for such time, and at such places, as the service may require, and on such conditions as shall be most for the benefit of the public : nevertheless, if they are agreed with or continue in service for any longer time than two months, the conditions are to be approved by the quartermaster general.

That the duty of a deputy quartermaster for a state shall be, to provide the means of transportation in such state for all public property, agreeably to the orders he may receive from the commander in chief, the board of war, the quartermaster general, or the officer commanding in the state--to provide such store-houses as may be necessary for the preservation of the public property, and to appoint suitable store-keepers, properly instructed, to account in the best manner the nature of the business will admit, agreeably to such plans as the quartermaster general may prescribe for all articles received, whether provided by the state in the state, or received from another state, taking care always to note deficiencies, and to reject such as are deficient in quality, whether provided by the state, or in any other manner within the state ; but if the parties are dissatisfied, the store-keeper, and the person or persons so tendering the goods, shall each nominate three of the most reputable freeholders in the vicinity of the place where the goods are to be delivered, the store-keeper to appoint one of the three nominated by the person or persons offering the goods, and he or they, one of those named by the store-keeper ; and if the two first cannot agree, a third is to be chosen by lot out of the remaining four, as an umpire ; the arbitrators to be on oath, and copies of their award to be delivered in writing to the parties, which shall be binding and conclusive--to keep proper registers of all persons, teams, pack-horses, vessels and craft, employed in the department, noting the manner and conditions on which they serve, and whether the teams, pack-horses, vessels fels or craft, are private or public property--to execute all orders, either for purchases or other purposes, which he may receive from the commander in chief, the board of war, the quartermaster general, or the commanding officer in the state; to pay all officers in the different parts of the state who shall be necessary to execute the business of the department, and who have been approved as aforesaid--to give such instructions, with respect to the management of the business, as shall appear necessary to have it conducted with the greatest economy and order, and at the same time with that dispatch which the service may require--to apply to the assistant quartermaster general for such sums of money as the service may require, and to distribute the same in such proportions as will best answer the purpose--to visit all the places of business of those serving under him, as often as his other duties will admit; and see whether they execute their duty agreeably to the instructions they receive--to inspect their accounts, books of receipts and issues, and to correct what is amiss--to collect and render his accounts of expenditures and returns of public property and persons employed in the department every three months; and to make return to the assistant quartermaster general of all issues that have been made, mentioning the articles, quantity or number of each, on whose application or order issued, and to whom delivered---to see that all stores provided in one state, to be forwarded to another, be carefully inspected, that the quantity and quality is agreeable to the order given before they are sent forward--to confine all the contracts or bargains of the contractors and agents of every denomination, within the state to which they belong, to prevent one contractor interfering with another---to make such provision for wintering or recruiting public horses, as may be necessary for the convenience and support of the army: And generally to do and perform every thing necessary to promote the service.

That the duty of the assistant quartermaster general shall be, to reside near Congress---to frame plans for keeping accounts in the department, and to accommodate them to the nature of the business in the best possible manner for preserving regularity; and after the quartermaster general shall approve thereof, to transmit them to the deputies in the several states as a rule for their stating and keeping their their accounts, to be by them communicated to all their under agents---to receive from the army and the districts, the accounts and vouchers arising therein to the first day of December, and to lay them before the chamber of accounts for settlement by the first day of January---to apply to the board of treasury for such sums of money as the quartermaster general shall direct, and distribute the same as the several branches of the department may require---to make such remarks and give such directions to the deputies in the several states as shall be found necessary for saving expence or preserving order in the business---to receive from the respective deputies, at the end of every three months, returns of all persons employed, how, where and on what conditions, and returns of all public property belonging to the department, and where deposited, made out in four distinct columns, one containing what has not been issued, another what is in use, the third what has been used and wants repairing, and the fourth what is unfit for further service and still of some value; these returns to be made agreeably to such forms as shall be furnished by the quartermaster general.

That the returns be made to the assistant quartermaster general in March, June, September and December; and that the general returns be furnished to the quartermaster general as soon after as possible:

That the quartermaster general appoint one commissary of forage for the main army, and so many deputies, forage-masters, clerks and labourers, as the service may require, and the commander in chief shall approve of, a deputy commissary of forage, and as many clerks and labourers for each separate army, as the service may require, and the commanding officer of such separate army shall approve of:

That the duty of a commissary of forage and of a deputy commissary of forage with a separate army, shall be, to provide forage and pasture in the neighbourhood of the camp, by purchase or otherwise, as the case may require and to distribute the same---to correspond with the deputy quartermasters, in the states in or near which the army may be, and make seasonable requisitions from them for such quantities of forage as the service may require, and to receive and issue the same to the army in such manner and proportion as is hereafter directed.

That the wages of people employed in the forage branch as well as the price of forage purchased, and hire of pasture as aforesaid, and all other contingent expences of the department, be directed for payment to the quartermaster general's pay-office; that the commissary of forage or his deputy certify the sums due, and that the same have been fully examined; that such orders or certificates for payment be presented to the auditor of accounts in the quartermaster general's office, and pass from him to the pay-office: but when, from sudden movements of the army, the certificates, for pasturage or forage furnished in the vicinity thereof, signed by the commissary of forage or his deputy, cannot be brought for payment to the quartermaster general's pay-office in camp, without great inconvenience to the possessors of the same, such certificates shall be paid by the deputy quartermaster of the state in which the same shall have been furnished, the sums and articles furnished being inserted in words at full length: and, to prevent frauds, the commissary of forage or deputy with a separate army, shall furnish the deputy quartermaster of the state, in which the army may serve, with a list of the persons employed in the forage branch, in their own hand writing, and the printed form of certificates generally made use of by them.

That the commissary of forage, or deputy with a separate army, fix upon such places for receiving and issuing forage at the army, as shall best accommodate the service; and that written instructions be given to the keeper of the magazine of forage, how and to whose order to issue the same; that proper entries be made in a book, to be kept for the purpose of all receipts and issues, and that the orders be numbered and filed to agree with the entries in the book.

That the forage-masters, and keepers of the army magazines shall make weekly returns to the commissary of forage, or to the deputy with a separate army, of all forage received and issued, and of all pasturage made use of, and certificates given for the same; and that the commissary of forage, or deputy with a separate army, shall, at the end of every four weeks, make returns to the quartermaster general, neral, or deputy quartermaster with a separate army, of all the forage received at the magazines or collected from the country, and of the issues of the same; also of all certificates for pasturage or forage which have, within that time, been given for settlement at the quartermaster general's pay-office.

That forage for the waggon horses be issued on the returns of the respective conductors, countersigned by the waggon master or his deputy; and for other horses on the orders of the officers entitled to receive forage by virtue of these regulations: and if any officer in the forage department shall issue forage in any other manner, or in larger proportions than is prescribed in these regulations, he shall be charged with and pay the full value of such extra forage, and be dismissed from the service.

That there be no deputy commissary of forage or forage-master appointed, except for the main army, or a separate army; and that all forage which it may hereafter be necessary to issue at any post, be issued by the deputy quartermaster of the state, his assistants or store-keepers:

That the deputy quartermaster of the state shall appoint the magazines or places at which forage shall be issued, and none shall be issued at any other; nor shall any forage be issued at such post to any officer, unless he certifies upon honor, on his return, that he is not on furlough nor absent from the army on his private business:

That a ration of forage shall consist of fourteen pounds of hay and eight quarts of oats for a saddle horse, and sixteen pounds of hay and twelve quarts of oats, or other short forage equivalent, for a draught horse, per day: That in cases where either of the above articles cannot be furnished, a double quantity of the other shall be considered as a compleat ration.

And whereas the great number of issuing posts established in these states have, by experience, been found very burthenfome and expensive:

Resolved, That from and after the first day of August next, no post, without troops there stationed, and in the continental service, shall be continued or established in any state at the expence of the United States, nor public provisions or forage issued thereat, but by order of the board of war, the commander in chief, or commanding officer of a separate separate army; and such order shall be given only in cases when, in their opinion, the obtaining provision or forage in any other way would be impracticable.

And whereas it may sometimes happen that there is a necessity to detain hired teams, the owners of which were to find their own forage and provisions, beyond the time for which such teams were engaged, and who, if their own forage and provisions are expended, must have recourse to the public magazines:

Resolved, That such teams, and their conductors and drivers, so detained and become destitute of forage and provisions, shall be supplied out of the public magazines, upon the written order of the officer by whose order they shall have been detained; and the waggon-master, or his deputy or other person, under whose direction such teams be employed, before he signs their discharge, shall cause to be endorsed thereon, by the forage-master and commissary, or store-keeper (as the case may be) the number of rations of forage and provisions furnished to such teams and their conductors and drivers, that the same may be deducted out of the wages due to the owners of such hired teams: that, excepting in the cases above mentioned, no provisions or forage be drawn by any person not actually serving with the army, or some detachment thereof:

That there be one waggon-master with the main army, and as many deputies, clerks and conductors, as the service may require, and the commander in chief shall approve of; that there be a deputy for each separate army, with as many assistants, clerks, and conductors, as the same may require, and the commanding officer shall approve of:

That the waggon-master, and deputy with a separate army, shall keep an exact register of all persons and teams employed with the army in his department, distinguishing by proper columns the private and public property; that he keep exact registers of all pay-rolls, noting the time and conditions of payment; that, in every pay-roll, the names and employment of every person be inserted at full length; and that the roll be signed by the waggon-master, or deputy with a separate army, and then pass to the auditor of accounts in the office of the quartermaster general, or deputy ty in a separate army, and from him to the respective pay-office:

That the waggon-master, or deputy in a separate army, give all the orders on the horse-yard for horses to equip the teams, and orders on the store for harness; and every deputy or assistant, receiving horses or harness upon such order, shall be charged with the same in his books, and be made to account, by his weekly or monthly returns for the horses or harness delivered to him.

That the waggon-master shall make monthly returns to the quartermaster general, or oftener if required, of all persons, teams, and horses, employed in his department, noting where and with whom serving, adding a column of casualties, in which to insert the deaths, stolen or strayed horses, and also the harness that may be lost, and generally to make such regulations for the government of the waggoners as shall be best calculated to preserve public property, and to give them as a standing order to all the waggon-masters, the quartermaster general approving thereof: that the like duties be performed by the deputy waggon-master of a separate army:

That the quartermaster have liberty, with the approbation of the commander in chief, or commander of a separate army, to take such and so many officers from the line of the army, to serve in his department, as he may find necessary, and as are willing to engage in the business:

That the quartermaster general establish a horse-yard with the army, for the purpose of receiving and issuing all public horses; and that the person appointed deliver none from the yard but by the order of the commander in chief, the quartermaster general, or his deputy, or the waggon-master:

The same regulations to take place with a separate army:

That an exact register be kept of the receipt and delivery of all horses, from whom received, to whom delivered, and by whose order; and also of all horses that may die, be stolen, or stray from the yard, or that are ordered to be sold by the quartermaster general, as unfit for farther service; and that returns of all transactions of the yard be made to the quartermaster general's office monthly, and as much oftener as the quartermaster general may direct.

Whereas

Whereas it is necessary that every army should be limited in the article of baggage ; this regulation being essential, as well to save expence as to prevent the army from being embarrassed in its operations ; and that every officer should have only such a quantity of baggage as is essential to his comfort and appearance.

Resolved, That the following proportion of waggons and bat-horses be allowed to the different ranks of officers, and no more, unless it be by order of the commander in chief, or commanding officer of a separate army, each of whom to be allowed for themselves so many baggage waggons and bat-horses as they may think necessary, to wit,

Provided, That if the number of waggons stated as above should prove insufficient, the quartermaster general may occasionally furnish such additional carriage as the commander in chief or commanding officer of a separate army, or the board of war, may direct.

Whereas the business of deputy quartermasters serving in the different states, may vary greatly one from another; and whereas that allowance which would be ample in some states, would be inadequate in others;

Resolved, That the quartermaster general be authorized to fix the pay of each deputy to conduct the business of his department in the states, according to the duties they have to perform, and the expences they will be at in executing the same; so that the pay of no deputy exceed one hundred and thirty-four dollars per month, without provision or forage, always having regard to the merit and service of the person appointed, and which shall be approved of by the board of war.

That the pay of the assistant deputy quartermasters be settled by the deputy quartermaster under whom they respectively spectively serve, according to the duties they have to perform, and the expence they will be at in executing the same, so as the pay of no assistant deputy quartermaster exceed seventy-five dollars per month, without provisions or forage ; always having regard to the merit and services of the person appointed, and which shall be approved of by the quartermaster general :

That the pay, of the officers in the quartermaster general's department, who are attached to the main or to a separate army, and move with it, be as follows :

That the foregoing salaries be paid in specie, or other money equivalent.

Whereas, in order to prevent the unnecessary consumption of forage, it is requisite to determine what officers shall be supplied with forage at the public expence, and to fix the quantity that shall be furnished to each :

That hitherto, when an officer resigned his commission in our army, he also resigned all pretensions to any rewards or benefits arising from his appointment; nor would it be politic or just that officers quitting the service, before the termination of the war, should receive the like rewards with those who continue in service until it be brought to a period: It is however consistent with the intention of Congress, as expressed in the resolution of the 10th day of April last, that officers whose resignations are accepted by Congress, after that resolve, should enjoy all the benefits accruing therefrom, as will appear by the proviso at the close of the resolution, the terms thereof clearly comprehending brigadier generals Maxwell's case, the board conceive no further act of Congress necessary;

That it has been recommended to the several states to make compensation for the officers and soldiers to them respectively belonging, for the depreciation of their pay ; and that Congress will take speedy measures for liquidating

Congress took into consideration the report of the committee to whom were referred the instructions of the general assembly of Maryland to their delegates in Congress, respecting the articles of confederation, and the declaration therein referred to, the act of the legislature of New-York on the same subject, and the remonstrance of the general assembly of Virginia; which report was agreed to, and is in the words following:

That having duly considered the several matters to them submitted, they conceive it unnecessary to examine into the merits or policy of the instructions or declaration of the general assembly of Maryland, or of the remonstrance of the general assembly of Virginia, as they involve questions, a discussion of which was declined on mature consideration, when the articles of confederation were debated; nor, in the opinion of the committee, can such questions be now revived with any prospect of conciliation; that it appears more advisable to press upon those states which can remove the embarrassments respecting the western country, a liberal surrender of a portion of their territorial claims, since they cannot be preserved entire without endangering the stability of the general confederacy; to remind them how indispensibly necessary it is to establish the federal union on a fixed and permanent basis, and on principles acceptable to all its respective members; how essential to public credit and confidence, to the support of our army, to the vigour of our councils and success of our measures, to our tranquility at home, our reputation abroad, to our very existence as a free, sovereign and independent people; that they are fully persuaded the wisdom of the respective legislatures will lead them to a full and impartial consideration of a subject so interesting to the United States, and so necessary to the happy establishment of the federal union; that they are confirmed in these expectations by a review of the beforementioned act of the legislature of New-York, submitted to their consideration; that this act is expressly calculated to accelerate the federal alliance, by removing, as far as depends on that state, the impediment arising from the western country, and for that purpose to yield up a portion of territorial claim for the general benefit; whereupon,

Resolved, That copies of the several papers referred to the committee be transmitted, with a copy of the report, to the legislatures of the several states, and that it be earnestly recommended to those states, who have claims to the western country, to pass such laws, and give their delegates in Congress such powers, as may effectually remove the only obstacle to a final ratification of the articles of confederation; and that the legislature of Maryland be earnestly requested to authorize their delegates in Congress to subscribe the said articles.

A report from the board of war was read; whereupon,

Resolved, That the resignation of captain Alexander Lawson Smith, of the regiment formerly Rawlings's, be accepted.

MONDAY, September 11, 1780.

Resolved, That the order of the day, to proceed to hear and examine into and finally determine the disputes and differences relative to jurisdiction between the three states of New-Hampshire, Massachusetts-Bay and New-York, respectively, or such of them as have passed such laws as are mentioned in the resolutions of the 24th of September and 2d of October last, on the one part, and the people of the district commonly known by the name of the New-Hampshire Grants, who claim to be a separate jurisdiction, on the other, be postponed till six o'clock.

The act of the state of New-York, passed October 21st, 1779, and the act of the state of New-Hampshire, of November, 1779, both passed pursuant to the resolutions of Congress of September the 24th and October 2d:

Z

That

That the board of war be directed to take measures for the march of the new raised regiment of Maryland, by such route as they may judge most expedient for the public service; and if from circumstances it shall become necessary, that they be impowered to halt the said regiment at such places as will best serve to cover the march of the convention troops.

That the states of Maryland and Virginia, be requested to take eventual measures for providing magazines of provisions, at or in the neighbourhood of fort Frederick, for the supply of the convention troops.

That the states of Maryland and Virginia be informed that Congress will use every exertion to supply them with tents and a number of arms, for the use of their respective militia; and that at the same time it be recommended, in the strongest manner to the said states, to leave no steps untried which may have a tendency to furnish these important and necessary articles.

Congress proceeded to the order of the day, the parties being present as yesterday, except the delegate for the state of New-Hampshire, who was absent through sickness; when the state of New-York, by its delegates, proceeded in stating evidence to prove that the inhabitants of the tract of country known by the name of the New-Hampshire Grants, west of Connecticut river, as part of the state or colony of New-York, were duly represented in and submitted to the authority, jurisdiction and government of the Congress and convention of the said state, till late in the year 1777; and that, therefore, the people inhabiting the said tract of country have no right to a separate and independent jurisdiction.

PLAN of the INSPECTING and MUSTERING DEPARTMENT.

WHEREAS the institution of this department hath been found of great utility to the armies of these United States; and experience hath shewn that it may be rendered still more useful by an extension of its powers and objects: therefore,

Resolved, That the former establishment, by a resolution of the 18th of February, 1779, and all subsequent resolutions relative thereto, be repealed; and the department hereafter have the following form, powers and privileges.

There shall be an inspector general with the main army of the United States, to be appointed by Congress, who shall be allowed two secretaries, in addition to the aids he is allowed in the line of the army, to be taken from the line of captains and subalterns, who shall receive, in addition to their pay, six dollars per month.

There shall be one assistant inspector general with the main army, who shall be adjutant general for the time being, and shall receive, in addition to his pay, ten dollars per month; and one to every separate army, when consisting of two or more divisions, who shall be the deputy adjutant general, and shall receive in addition to his pay, eight dollars per month.

There shall be one inspector to each division of the army of the United States, one to the corps of cavalry, and one to the corps of artillery; to be taken, when the service will admit, from the line of colonels and lieutenant colonels who shall be allowed, in addition to their pay, seven and a half dollars per month, and forage for three horses, including what they are entitled to in the line of the army, and one extra ration of provision, when the state of the magazines will admit.

army

army of the United States, one to the corps of cavalry, and one to the corps of artillery, if thought necessary by the commander in chief, or commanding officer of a separate army, to be taken from the line of majors in the brigade, when the service will admit, who shall be allowed, in addition to their pay, five dollars per month, and one extra ration, when the state of the magazines will admit.

The commander in chief, and commanding officer of a separate army, are hereby empowered to appoint inspectors and sub-inspectors to the militia, while in actual service, agreeable to the foregoing plan, who shall have the same powers, privileges and emoluments, as those serving with the continental army.

It shall be the duty of the inspector-general to frame a system of regulations for the exercise and discipline of the troops, in the manual evolutions and manœuvres, for the service of guards and detachments, and for all camp and garrison duty, and if approved of by the commander in chief, and ratified by Congress, such regulations shall be enforced by the orders of the commander in chief throughout the army.

The assistant inspectors general shall assist in the general duties of the department, agreeable to the directions they shall receive from the inspector general, (through the order of the commander in chief) and when the inspector is not present, shall have the chief direction of the same, agreeable to the orders they may receive as aforesaid; they shall nevertheless continue to perform their duties of adjutant and deputy adjutant general.

The inspectors shall attend to the execution of the regulations established for the army in their respective divisions, and in such garrisons as they may be ordered by the inspector general or assistant inspectors general; at all times performing the duty of adjutant general to the same; and when a detachment of more than one division is sent from the army, the eldest inspector of the marching troops shall act as adjutant general to the detachment.

The sub-inspectors shall do the duty of majors of brigade to the brigades to which they belong, and attend to the execution of the regulations established for the army in their respective brigades, and such garrisons, detachments and independent corps, as they shall be ordered by the inspector

Inspector general, or assistant inspector general with a separate army.

The inspector general and the assistant inspector general shall review and muster the troops in service once every month, at which review he or they shall inspect the number and condition of the men, their discipline, the state of their cloaths, arms, accoutrements and camp equipage; the number of rations they have drawn since the last review; reporting such soldiers and recruits as are unfit for service to the major general or commander of the division, the brigadier or commander of a regiment detached from the division or brigade to which such disabled soldier may belong; to be by them, or either of them, discharged or transferred to the corps of invalids, if on the examination of the surgeon of the regiment, they shall be found unfit for further service in the field. But no such soldier shall be deemed legally discharged or transferred, except his discharge or transference is signed by the major general, brigadier or commandant as aforesaid, and a certificate of his inability, specifying the nature of it, signed by the surgeon, is annexed thereto; noting at the same time all alterations that have happened since the last review or muster, and, as far as possible, in what manner, reporting them with the deficiencies, neglects and abuses, to the commander in chief, or commanding officer present, and the board of war.

At every muster, three rolls shall be made out by the commanding officer of each troop or company, signed and sworn to by him, one of which rolls shall be returned to him, certified by the mustering officer; one shall be retained by the mustering officer; the other shall be certified and delivered to the regimental pay-master, to be affixed to the pay-rolls.

Each brigade shall be mustered by its sub-inspector, under the superintendency of the inspector of the division, who shall be responsible, with the sub-inspector, for the exactness and fidelity of the musters; and, in like manner, all garrisons, independent corps and detachments, shall be mustered by such inspector or sub-inspectors, as the inspector general, or assistant inspector general with a separate army, shall order.

The sub inspectors shall deliver an abstract of all such musters

musters regimentally digested, to the inspector of the division, who shall digest them into division abstracts, in the same form, and transmit them to the assistant inspectors general, to be by them transmitted to the inspector general, and in a separate army to the commanding officer.

The inspector general shall transmit, once every month, a copy of the abstract of the musters of the whole army, to the commander in chief, and another to the board of war.

No commanding officer of a regiment, shall muster the regiment he commands, but another inspector shall be ordered to do that duty, by the inspector general.

The assistant inspector in a separate army, shall do the same duties in that army, as the inspector general doth in the main army respecting the musters, according to the directions he shall receive, and orders of the commanding officer.

The commissary of issues shall be obliged to deliver to the inspector general, and assistant inspector with a separate army, an abstract, by brigades, of the rations actually issued, and of all issues to all separate corps, garrisons and detachments.

All muster-rolls shall be sworn to before a general officer, or commandant of a separate post or detachment, who are hereby empowered to administer the oath, and certify it on each muster roll, in the words following, (to wit,)

“ I, A. B. do swear, that this muster-roll is a true state “ of the company under my command, without fraud to “ the United States, or to any individual, according to “ the best of my knowledge.

“ A. B. captain, lieutenant,

“ ensign or cornet, commandant.

“ Sworn before me, this      day of      17 .”

The mustering officers are empowered and directed to require from all the officers whose troops are mustered, all papers and vouchers relative to their enlistments and musters.

The inspector shall keep accounts with the officers commanding regiments, of all arms and accoutrements delivered their regiments, and returned in by them: No arms or accoutrements shall be delivered without an order from the inspector of the division, to whom returns for arms and accoutrements wanted shall be made, in the form directed

in

in the resolution for the order and discipline of the troops of these United States.

All officers of the inspectorship shall retain their rights of command and promotion, in the same manner as if they had not assumed the office: They are to suspend the exercise of their respective commands, except when they happen to be the superior in the division, brigade, or regiment, to which they belong, or when they are appointed to execute any particular service by the commander in chief, or commanding officer of a separate army; and are exempt from all common camp and garrison duty, that they may attend to that of the inspecting, as well in time of action as at all other times.

The inspector general, as often as the commander in chief shall think fit to order, shall visit every part of the army, and review the same, to see that uniformity prevails throughout the armies of these United States.

The inspector general shall keep books, in which the returns, &c. passing through his office shall be registered. He shall be charged with collecting in one or more volumes all the resolves of Congress, and regulations of the board of war relative to the army.

The travelling and other incidental expences for the execution of the business of the office, shall be settled by the auditors with the army, upon such principles as shall be established by the commander in chief, and paid out of the military chest.

The quartermaster general shall furnish all necessary books, paper, &c. for the department.

Each inspector shall be allowed when the circumstances of the army will permit, a marquee and common tent; each sub-inspector a horseman's and common tent; if not provided for as officers in the line.

All the regulations respecting the objects of this department shall be finally approved and established by Congress: But the exigency of the service requiring it, temporary ones may, from time to time be introduced, by the inspector general, with the approbation of the commander in chief, and transmitted to the board of war within one month after their introduction, that, being examined and reported to Congress by them, they may be rejected, altered, amended or confirmed, as Congress shall deem proper.

Resolved,

Resolved, That baron Steuben be, and hereby is continued inspector general of the armies of these United States, and vested with power to appoint all officers necessary to carry the foregoing plan into execution, they being first approved of by the commander in chief.

Resolved, That the assistant inspector be allowed four hundred dollars per month, of the old emission, in addition to his pay as adjutant general, from the 1st day of February last, to the 1st day of October next : The inspectors shall be allowed, from the 1st day of February last to the 1st day of October, three hundred dollars per month of the old emission, and the sub-inspectors shall be allowed, two hundred dollars per month, of the old emission, from the 1st day of February aforesaid, to the first day of October next, in addition to the pay and subsistence to which they are entitled by their respective ranks.

The committee to whom was referred a letter of May 12th, from Mr. W. Glascock, and the memorial of Mr. G. Walton, report :

That, in the course of their enquiry respecting the business committed to them, they have conferred with his excellency Richard Howley, the present governor of Georgia, and been attended by Mr. George Seegar, clerk of the general assembly of the said state, and have obtained from each of them a state of facts, to which they beg leave to refer ; that it appears, that the paper containing the paragraph respecting brigadier general M'Intosh, and dated at Augusta, in the state of Georgia, the 30th day of November 1779, and purporting in general to be a letter or address from the assembly of that state to Congress, did originate in, and ought to be considered as an act declarative of the sense of the said assembly ; and that the same was officially transmitted with other public papers, by colonel Walton, then governor of that state, to the president of Congress, and, together with the proceedings of the said governor and council, contained a sufficient ground for the act of Congress of the 15th day of February last, for dispensing with the services of the said brigadier general M'Intosh, until the farther order of Congress.

Resolved, That Congress agree to the said report.

Ordered, That a copy of the above report, and of the papers referred to, be transmitted to the governor of Georgia.

On motion of Mr. Bee, seconded by Mr. Matthews :

Resolved, That two thirds of the bills, ordered by the resolution of the 23d of August last to be sold for specie, for the relief of prisoners of war, be now disposed of under the directions of the board of war, for such necessary articles of cloathing or provisions as may, in their opinion, best conduce to supply in some measure their present wants.

T U E S D A Y, September 26, 1780.

Resolved, That the resignation of lieutenant George Sexton and Benjamin Butterfield, and ensign Reuben Church of colonel Warner's regiment, be accepted.

The board of war, to whom was referred the petition of captain Rice, for leave of absence to go to sea, in order to enable him to continue in the service, or, if that cannot be obtained, to have leave to resign, report :

That they are fully sensible of the merit and services of captain Rice, and are well assured he has injured his circumstances considerably in the service ; yet the granting his request for leave of absence to go to sea, would introduce such a number of similar applications, and would also create such embarrassments about the exchange, in case of a capture, that the board think it would be best to reject the practice in the first instance :

Resolved, That Congress agree to the said report :

Resolved, That the resignation of captain Joseph Rice, of the 4th regiment of artillery, be accepted.

W E D N E S D A Y, September 27, 1780.

Congress proceeded in the order of the day respecting the jurisdiction of the tract of country commonly called the New-Hampshire Grants, all the parties being present except Ira Allen and Stephen R. Bradley, who being duly notified, declined to attend, when the agent for the state of New-Hampshire proceeded to state evidence tending to prove that the tract of country known by the name of the New-Hampshire Grants, was within the state of New-Hampshire, and that therefore the people inhabiting the said tract of country, have no right to a separate and independent jurisdiction. The gentlemen appearing in behalf of sundry inhabitants of the said Grants having nothing to add, add, and pressing Congress to come to a determination, withdrew.

Resolved, That the farther consideration of the subject be postponed.

The committee to whom were referred the letters from John Magnall, delivered in a report which was read; whereupon:

Resolved, That copies of the said letters attested by the secretary of Congress, be sent to the honorable John Jay, minister plenipotentiary of these United States at the court of Madrid; and that he be instructed to endeavour to obtain, for the captors of the Dover cutter, the benefit intended by the resolve, passed in Congress on the 14th day of October 1777, respecting vessels belonging to British subjects, seized and brought into any of the ports or harbours of these United States, by the master or mariners, and that he be informed it is the wish of Congress that the whole profit of the capture be divided among the captors.

F R I D A Y, September 29, 1780.

Resolved, That until a permanent arrangement of the army can be accomplished, the commanding officer of the southern army be authorized to form into proper corps, under the command of the officers of the states of South-Carolina and Georgia, who are now at liberty to act, such of the non-commissioned officers and soldiers of those states as are or can be collected; the said non-commissioned officers and soldiers to share the benefit of all supplies of pay, and cloathing and necessaries, equally with the troops of other states.

S A T U R D A Y, September 30, 1780.

A letter of the 26th from general Washington was read, confirming the account given in the letter of the 25th from major-general Greene, of the treasonable practices of major-general Benedict Arnold, and his desertion to the enemy.

WHEREAS the late regulations for conducting the affairs of the general hospital are in many respects defective; and it is necessary that the same be revised and amended; in order that the sick and wounded may be properly provided for

for and attended, and the business of the hospitals conducted with regularity and economy; therefore,

Resolved, That there be one director of the military hospitals, who shall have the general direction and superintendence of all the hospitals to the northward of North-Carolina; that, within the aforesaid limits, there be three chief hospital physicians, who shall also be surgeons; one chief physician, who shall also be a surgeon, to each separate army; fifteen hospital physicians, who shall also be surgeons; twenty surgeons mates for the hospitals; one purveyor, with one assistant; one apothecary; one assistant apothecary; and to each hospital, a steward, matron, orderly men and nurses, as heretofore:

That the director, or in his absence, one of the chief hospital physicians, be empowered and required, with the advice and consent of the commander in chief, or commander of a separate army, to establish and regulate such a number of hospitals, at proper places, for the reception of the sick and wounded of the army, as may be found necessary:

That the director be authorized and instructed to enjoin the several chief hospital physicians, and other officers of the hospitals under his superintendence, to attend at such posts or stations as he may judge proper, and also to attend and perform such duties, at any post or place, as a change of the position of the army, or other circumstances, may from time to time make necessary, and shall be required by the commander in chief; and that, in case of any dispute concerning their seniority or precedence, the director shall determine the same in the first instance, the party supposing himself aggrieved being at liberty to appeal for redress to the medical committee:

That in time of action, and on any other emergency, when the regimental surgeons are not sufficient in number to attend properly to the sick and wounded that cannot be removed to the hospitals; the director, or in his absence, the nearest chief hospital physician, be empowered and required, upon request of the chief physician and surgeon of the army, to send from the hospitals under his care, to the assistance of such sick and wounded, as many surgeons as can possibly be spared from the necessary business of the hospitals:

That the director, or in his absence, two of the chief hospital

hospital physicians, shall make out and deliver, from time to time, to the purveyor, proper estimates of hospital stores, medicines, instruments, dressings, and such other articles as may be judged necessary for the use of the hospitals; also direct the apothecary or his assistant to prepare and deliver medicines, instruments, dressings, and other articles in his possession, to the hospitals and surgeons of the army and navy, as he or they may judge necessary :

That the director authorise and instruct the purveyor and apothecary to supply, for the use of the regimental surgeons, such medicines and refreshments as may be proper for the relief of the sick and wounded, before their removal to a general hospital, and to be dispensed under the care, and at the direction of the chief physician of the army :

W E D N E S D A Y, October, 18, 1780.

Congress took into consideration the resolution reported for setting apart a day of thanksgiving and prayer, and agreed to the following draught :

W H E R E A S it hath pleased Almighty God, the father of all mercies, amidst the vicissitudes and calamities of war, to bestow blessings on the people of these states, which call for their devout and thankful acknowledgments, more especially in the late remarkable interposition of his watchful providence, in rescuing the person of our commander in chief and the army from imminent dangers at the moment when treason was ripened for execution ; in prospering the labours of the husbandmen, and causing the earth to yield its increase in plentiful harvests ; and above all, in continuing to us the enjoyment of the gospel of peace :

It is therefore recommended to the several states to set apart Thursday the seventh day of December next to be observed as a day of public thanksgiving and prayer ; that all the people may assemble on that day to celebrate the praises of our Divine Benefactor ; to confess our unworthiness of the least of his favours, and to offer our fervent supplications to the God of all grace ; that it may please him to pardon our heinous transgressions and incline our hearts for the future to keep all his laws ; to comfort and relieve our brethren who are any wise afflicted or distressed : to smile upon our husbandry and trade ; to direct our public councils, and lead our forces by land and sea to victory ; to take our illustrious ally under his special protection, and favor our joint councils and exertions for the establishment of speedy and permanent peace ; to cherish all schools and seminaries of education, and to cause the knowledge of christianity to spread over all the earth.
